Several large manufacturers threaten to leave St. Louis because of the bridge arbitrary." C. C. Crone, president North End Citizens' Association.

"Abolish bridge arbitrary. Get fair rental for streets vacated." Councilman Gibson.

The business interests of St. Louis are aroused in the fight led by the Post-Dispatch to secure a reduction of the bridge arbitrary, protection for the commerce of the city and just compensation for the franchises which the city has power to grant.

Commercial interests in all quarters are unanimous in the view that relief must be secured from the weight of the bridge arbitrary and protection rendered trade from unjust exactions.

Business men say the bridge arbitrary is the paramount question, and they point to the damage it has already done St. Louis by driving away industries which have located in East St. Louis or in cities farther away.

The first of the Terminal's ordinances, which is known as the loop ordinance, will come up again for consideration in the Council tomorrow night, having been laid over from Tuesday night for the introduction of further amendments.

Several amendments have already been introduced by President Hornsby, and Councilman Gibson will introduce others Friday.

One of these will require a fair compensation from the Terminal for the grants it asks in the loop ordinance. Another, providing for abolition of the bridge arbitrary in 1806, has already been introduced in the House of Delegates and commercal organizations throughout the city are studying the arbitrary problem to find every possible means of securing its reduction or abolition.

Today the Day to Adjust the Bridge Arbitrary

Mr. James W. Van Cleave, vice-president of the Buck Stove and Range Co., was for four years chairman of the committee of the Manufacturers' Association charged with the abolition of the bridge arbitrary, and has given the matter of the bridge arbitrary and terminal charges a great deal of study and investigation. He believes that the pending Terminal bills present a great opportunity to adjust these vexed questions and put St. Louis on the map, ridding the city's commerce of the burden of the arbitrary charge for bridge and terminal service. Mr. Van Cleave said to the Post-Dispatch:

"I have read with a great deal of care the officiol statement of the Terminal Railroad Association and the interested railroads. I have also followed with a great deal of interest the effort that you are making to interest the people of St. Louis in this most important matter, and it seems to me, after studying the problem as I have studied it, that the time is opportune for a practical adjustment of the Terminal question in the interest of the commerce of this great city for the future. My conclusions, therefore, are as follows:

"First, from the standpoint of the upbuilding of a great city, the railroads should be given every encouragement that would enable them through the Terminal Railroad Association to provide every facility for the prompt, efficient and cheap handling of the commerce of the city; and to that end I should be in favor of granting all of the ordinances asked for in the form that they are asked for, or in other words, accepting the propsition that is made by the railroads and the Terminal association, with certain conditions concerning the handling of the city's commerce.

"I call the attention of the manufacturing and mercantile interests of this city to the fact that now is the time and today is the day for a complete and practical adjustment of this much abused and much misunderstood bridge arbitrary, and I hope that the business interests of this city will rise up en masse and demand the following amendments of this terminal question, as a condition of the passage of these Terminal bills:

"1. That the maximum charge be inserted in these ordinances for terminal and bridge service.

"2. That through rates of freight be made by all railroads to and from St. Louis, Mo., said rates to cover and include the terminal charges agreed upon.

"3. The cost of bridge and terminal service to be paid for by the railroad companies to the Terminal association, and not to be collected either directly or indirectly from the individual shipper."

North End Citizen's Association Demands Fixed Bridge Charges

"I realise that St. Louis needs and must have greater terminal facilities, but at the same time they must not be granted to the sacrifice of the city's interests," said Charles C. Crone, president of the North St. Louis Citizens' Association to the Post-Dispatch.

"If the public streets are to be used by the Terminal Association that corporation should be willing to pay a reasonable price. Nobody can realise except those who are directly affected, the manifold disadvantages which shippers are laboring under now. The conditions are such that several of our leading manufacturers are talking of moving to East St. Louis. The bridge arbitrary is the cause of the trouble.

"Shippers are obliged to pay $5 per car for all tonnage passing over the river, while a charge of $2 is exacted for switching the cars on this side. This, it strikes me, is the greatest evil to be remedied."

Mr. Crone directed attention to the communication which has been forwarded by the North St. Louis Association to members of the City Council and the House of Delegates, demanding a reduction and uniform rates from the Terminal.

"St Louis is at the mercy of one ter-

COURT CHANGES PLEA OF GUILTY

Mail Clerk Avows Innocence After Making Contrary Statement.

SAYS BILLS FOUND IN SOCK INDICATE A CONSPIRACY

Judge Amidon Urges North to Tell Truth Rather Than to Seek Clemency by Falsely Inculpating Himself.

"Arhur L. North, are you guilty or not guilty?"

"I pleaded guilty yesterday, your honor."

"That is not the question. Are you guilty or not guilty?"

"Before God, I solemnly swear that I am not guilty."

"Then I will not pass sentence under the plea you entered yesterday. It is withdrawn, and thata of not guilty substituted.

This conversation between Judge Amidon of the United States district court and Arthur L. North, charged with robbing the mails, took place Thursday morning in the district courtroom.

When North was first arraigned after indictment by the Federal grandjury, he entered a plea of not guilty.

Wednesday North and his counsel, Seneca Taylor, appeared before Judge Amidon and asked that the plea be changed to guilty.

At the request of North's counsel, Judge Amidon deferred passing the sentence until Thursday morning.

Plea Did Not Satisfy Judge.

North, who is a stalwart, resolute appearing man of 35, with dark eyes and hair and an open countenance, advanced to the bar.

Judge Amidon looked at him searchingly, then asked him whether he was guilty or not.

Not satisfied with the first answer, he asked him again.

Holding his head high, looking the judge in the face, North made answer, denying his guilt:

"Before God I declare that I never took those letters. I never saw those bills until they were found upon me."

"I have considered your past character," continued the judge in passionless tones. "I have learned of your devotion to your wife and child. It is in your favor.

"It may be that the evidence looked so strong against you that you despaired of overcoming it before a jury, and that with this in mind you entered a plea of guilty, trusting to the clemency of the court to receive short punishment.

"There is one person on earth above all others to whom you must be true—that is yourself.

"You say you are innocent—then it is not justice to your wife, your relatives, your friends to enter a plea that you declare on your oath is not true."

North raised his right arm as he again declared, "I am innocent of the charge."

"I cannot sentence this man under these circumstances," said Judge Amidon. "The plea of guilty is withdrawn," and he handed the paper to the clerk.

District Attorney Dyer stated that the trial of North will be called in a few days.

After court adjourned a number of North's friends congratulated him on his determination to stand trial.

Says He Is Victim of Conspiracy.

"It is a conspiracy," he declared. "I am not guilty, but the evidence looked so unfavorable that I thought it would be the best thing for my family if I would change my plea to guilty, and obtain a light sentence by throwing myself on the mercy of the court.

"When the judge directly asked me if I was really guilty, no matter what the outcome, I had to tell the truth."

North resides at 5184 Morgan street. He has been in the railway mail service 16 years, having been appointed in Helena, Mont., through the recommendation of Gov. Joseph K. O'Toole, then a congressman, and retained through the intervention of Senator Thomas H. Carter. He removed to St. Louis in 1896.

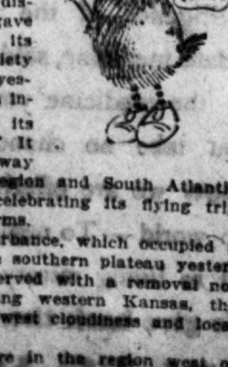

He was arrested by Postoffice Inspectors Bunsen, Piatt and Martin, who mailed a test letter containing two marked $1 dollar bills, and the same day arrested North at Union Station, and found the bills in one of his socks. He is charged with taking two other letters containing several dimes.

THUNDER STORMS ARE COMING

Weather Raised Such a Disturbance in Wisconsin That It Was Sent Down This Way.

Noise and lightning flashes and falling water are to be our portion for the next 24 hours. All due to thunderstorms.

The thunderstorms will be hearalded by cloudy skies. At least this is the story told in that place of wisdom, the weather bureau: "Increasing cloudiness. Thunderstorms tonight and Friday. Mild temperature."

The weather disturbance that gave the benefit of its quarrelsome society to Wisconsin yesterday has been invited "to pack its clothes and go." It is now on its way over the lake region and South Atlantic states, and is celebrating its flying trip with thunderstorms.

Its sister disturbance, which occupied a position over the southern plateau yesterday, was also served with a removal notice. It is giving western Kansas, the West and Southwest cloudiness and local showers.

The temperature in the region west of the Mississippi is going up. In the Ohio valley and lake region it is going in the opposite direction.

The river here will continue to rise slowly.

AN ARMY OF KENTUCKY MOUNTAINEERS IN BATTLE WITH SOLDIERS AT JACKSON

The Invaders, Numbering 60 Men Repulsed in an Attack Made On the Jail Guard.

THE FIGHT BEGAN JUST AT MIDNIGHT

Hundreds of Shots Fired on Both Sides, While a Storm Raged — Casualties Not Known.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JACKSON, Ky., May 28.—Last night was one of terror here and almost a panic among the troops as well as among the people. An attack on the jail was repulsed. Hundreds of shots were fired. There were no casualties among the troops guarding the jail, but it is not known what the result was to the assailants. The attack was evidently a carefully planned attempt by their friends to rescue Curtis Jett and Tom White, who are in jail, charged with the murder of J. B. Marcum.

The jail was in charge of Maj. Allen of the militia, who had as a guard about forty men, detailed from the various companies on duty here.

Three sentinels and a corporal were on duty, while the other guards were asleep.

Just before midnight a body of 40 men armed with Winchester, rifles invaded Jackson from the hills which skirt the Kentucky river.

They marched up the main street to within a block of the courthouse, and for a few minutes halted in the shadow of the bank to the south of the jail, which is an annex of the courthouse. Up to this time the sentinels had not heard the approach of the ominous column of invading mountaineers.

A citizen who had seen the marching men, at the risk of his life, hurried across the street to give the alarm to the soldiers at the jail. A thunderstorm was roaring overhead, and the rain was falling heavily.

As the citizen reached the middle of the street a flash of lightning revealed his figure to the mob, and half a dozen shots were fired at him.

The shots alarmed the sentinels, and in half a minute the entire force on duty at the jail were up and at their guns.

The invaders did not delay after this incident.

Just at midnight they advanced on the jail. The attack was made from three sides.

The first shots came from the militia. The firing was promptly returned by the mob, which kept advancing until the jail was practically surrounded. The soldiers poured an incessant fire into the ranks of the attacking forces. The attack was maintained for about fifteen minutes, when the assailants withdrew to the hills east of the jail, about 300 yards, from which point for half an hour or more they kept up a deadly fire on the jail with their Winchesters.

The soldiers say that as the lightning disclosed the figures of the bessigers, they could easily see the features of many of the men who composed the attacking force, but did not recognize any one of them.

The walls of the jail and courthouse are scarred with bullet marks, showing that hundreds of shots were fired by the mob.

The darkness and the fact that the soldiers were under cover, accounts for the fact that none of them were wounded. The guard believes that some of the mob were wounded, but there is no evidence of this. It is probable that the young soldiers were in a highly nervous state, and did not shoot with accuracy.

The condition in Jackson today is difficult to describe. Nearly every man in the place is badly frightened. Correspondents are advised not to send our reports of what happened last night, and obstacles are thrown in the way of news transmission.

This dispatch, though bearing date of Jackson was for prudential reasons sent by train to Irvin, 50 miles away, and then transmitted by wire.

It is now apparent to everyone that the men who hired Jett and White to kill Marcum fear they will be implicated in the assassination if the two prisoners are permitted to go to trial. They are among the most influential men in this county. They have money, friends and influence. They mean to liberate Jett and White and last night's bold attack on the jail gives evidence of the desperate means they can employ to carry our their plans.

MORE TROOPS NEEDED AT ONCE

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

LEXINGTON, Ky., May 28.—There has been a night of horror at Jackson. The intense excitement which has prevailed during the past few days has now reached a climax. The idea that the presence of armed troops in Jackson would compel order by overawing the lawless element is now shown to be baseless. As a matter of fact there is only a handful of troops in Jackson. Although the soldiers are heav-

The Town of Melazgherd, on the Euphrates, With Its Entire Population, Destroyed.

CONSTANTINOPLE, May 28.—Advices which reached here today from Asiatic Turkey, show that a terrible earthquake occurred April 29 at Melazgherd, in the vilayet of Van, 80 miles southeast of Erzeroum, on the Euphrates. The town was totally destroyed with its entire population, numbering 2000 persons, including 700 Armenians, as well as the troops forming the garrison of Melazgherd. In addition, over 400 houses in the neighboring villages collapsed.

ONE BRIEF SHOCK DID THE DAMAGE

LONDON, May 28.—The foreign office today received some details from the British consul at Erzeroum regarding the recent earthquake at Melazgherd, according to which a strong shock, lasting 30 seconds, was felt on the morning of April 29, throughout the entire district between Lake Van and the Russian frontier and as far west as Kharput.

The town of Melazgherd, consisting of 500 houses, was destroyed and much havoc was wrought in the surrounding villages.

Col. Khalil Bey, commanding the garrison of Melazgherd, with his whole family, three other officers and 80 soldiers, perished in the ruins. Lieutenant-Colonel Tayib Bey, whose family perished, became insane.

The telegraph operator who sent the news of the catastrophe, says he himself was badly injured and that his wife and sister had been killed.

The foreign office has appealed for subscriptions for the relief of the destitute of the Melazgherd district.

Mrs. Barbara Day, 72 years old, living at 1445 South Second street, was seriously burned by the explosion of a gasoline stove on Thursday morning.

Mrs. Day was lighting the stove to get breakfast for her son, Fred Day, and she did not notice that the tank of the stove was open.

The tank exploded and in an instant Mrs. Day's clothes were in a blaze. Her screams were heard by her son, who was in another room, and he quickly threw the blazing stove out of the window. Then he carried his mother downstairs into the back yard, where he extinguished her flaming clothes by rolling her on the grass.

She was very badly burned about the head, arms and face and the upper parts of her body.

Her injuries were dressed by Dr. Albert Schuck of 1421 South Second street, who said her burns would probably prove fatal.

MADE BARRICADE IN UNION MARKET

Detective Killian Captures Ex-Convict After Scramble Over Vegetable Crates.

Detective Lee Killian captured "Mickey Mack," a notorious thief, pickpocket and ex-convict, in the aisle of a street car, crowded with women, at Sixth and Morgan streets about noon Thursday, after a fight, which caused a panic among the passengers.

The fight and capture were preceded by a thrilling chase from Third and Carr streets, along Carr street and Broadway, though Union Market, with the detective firing as he ran and the fleeing "Mickey Mack" pulling down barrels of apples and sides of beef in a desperate effort to block the pathway of his pursuer.

The capture aboard the car was almost prevented by the conductor, who grabbed Killian as he jumped on the rear platform, not knowing that he was one of Desmond's sleuths. Killian promptly knocked him down and nabbed "Mickey" as he was getting out on the motorman's reservation after tossing out of his way some of the women who left their seats in fright.

Killian was walking along Third street, near Wash, when he recognized "Mickey" and a woman in a crowd at Third and Carr. "Mickey" saw him, too, and the chase was on in a minute, the ex-convict knowing that the detectives had orders to gather him in at all times on general principles.

Killian pulled his revolver and commenced shooting at the fugitive in an effort to make him stop. But he kept on with Desmond's man gaining on him and passers-by dodging out of the way.

Shoppers in Union Market were terrified by the chase through the long line of vegetable stands and meat counters, with "Mickey" trying to make "bunkers" for Killian to get over out of everything he could reach.

The ex-convict beat Killian to Sixth street, where he sought to lose him by running north to Morgan and boarding an east-bound car.

Killian, however, turned out a side entrance of the market and jumped aboard right after him.

"Mickey" was locked up at the Four Courts.

RELIANCE BEATS THE COLUMBIA

Constitution Met With a Mishap and Withdrew From the Race.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Reliance won, beating Columbia about a mile and three-quarters.

MATINICOCK POINT, L. I., May 28.—The three cup yachts, Reliance, Constitution and Columbia, startetd today in the fourth of the preliminary trials over the Glen Cove course. The wind at the start was from the south-southwest and blowing about 10 or 12 knots an hour. The course for today's race was a triangular one of 25 miles. This will be a run almost off the wind of 11 miles, a reach of three miles across the sound, and a beat of 11 miles.

At the start there was a sharp contest for position, betwen Reliance and Constitution, Columbia keeping away and crossing the line first.

The official time was:

Columbia	12:15:21
Reliance	12:16:43
Constitution	12:17:00

A half-mile from the start, Reliance and Constitution passed Columbia to the windward and the Constitution had drawn up on the Reliance until she was almost on her weather quarter.

The wind before the yachts had sailed half the first leg dropped off to about seven knots.

At 12:55 p. m., a schooner came between the yachts and the observers on shore. When she moved away, Constitution had down her club topsail and was heading for Huntington harbor. She appeared to have met with an accident. The other yachts continued the race, the turning time at the first mark as seen from shore being:

Reliance	1:13:28
Columbia	1:16:10

The exact nature of the accident to Constitution could not be determined from here because of a thick haze, but it appeared certain that at least her topmast had been carried away. She made no attempt to continue the race.

TEAMSTERS ARE ORDERED BACK

Chairman Fitzpatrick of National Board Reaches St. Louis.

J. B. Fitzpatrick, chairman of the national board of trustees of the Teamsters' Union, who arrived in St. Louis Thursday from Denver, at once issued an order directing all striking members of the union to return to work by Saturday under pain of expulsion.

The men went out Thursday morning in sympathy with the freight handlers of St. Louis and East St. Louis, who are already out. The teamsters met in Hyde Park Hall, at Twelfth street and Franklin avenue, Wednesday night and, after excluding the officers of the national organization, voted to join in a sympathetic strike.

Mr. Fitzpatrick says that not more than 100 men quit work in accordance with the decision of the meeting.

and half of them returned to their places Thursday when his order threatening them with expulsion was promulgated.

Mr. Fitzpatrick says the joint council, composed of the officers of the various local unions, has the sole power to order a sympathetic strike and they must do it by a two-thirds vote.

The meeting a tHyde Park Hall, according to Mr. Fitzpatrick, was attended by only about 50 members of the National Teamsters' Union, whereas there are 5000 in St. Louis.

Mr. Fitzpatrick has called a meeting for Thursday night in the Star Hall at Eleventh street and Franklin avenue, when he says the trouble will be settled.

The National Teamsters' Union is one of two in St. Louis, the other being known as the International Teamsters' Union.

New complications in the freight handlers' strike, believed to have been settled by the agreement reached between the wholesale grocers of the Cupples Station district, arose Thursday morning when the teamsters of both the national and international unions refused to go to work.

The teamsters decided upon the sympathetic strike at a mass meeting at Twelfth street and Franklin avenue Wednesday night at a meeting from which the officers of the local unions were barred.

The leading men in the mass meeting asserted that the officers of the union had been in conference with the employers, seeking to avert the strike on terms the men did not aprove of.

M. J. Dwyer, third vice-president, and M. J. McCarthy, state organizer of the National Union, sought admission to the hall, and were denied the privilege of attending the meeting.

The Couples Station freight handlers and the porters for the wholesale firms in the station returned to work after an agreement had been signed with the officers of the union, granting practically the requests of the men.

The freight handlers in the railroad depots are still out and have been joined by the men on the East Side, 800 of whom went out Wednesday and 1000 more Thursday.

The situation with the freight handlers and the Simmons Hardware packers and porters remains practically unchanged.

The imported men have been working and it was on their account that the teamsters struck.

Three hundred freight handlers in East St. Louis went out at noon Thursday.

As a result very little freight is being moved in the East Side yards. Only the L. & N., M. & O. and Illinois Central are still at work. All the freight handlers employed by the B. & O., Wabash, Clover Leaf, Big Four, C. & A., Vandalia and the Southern Railway left their work at the noon whistle and those roads are not receiving any freight.

Three hundred teamsters employed by the St. Louis Transfer Co. have also struck and their wagons were turned in at noon. This leaves the railroads without means of getting freight across the river, and the roads whose handlers remained at work will have little more to do than those whose handlers have struck.

No disorder has been reported to the police, nor has the department sent any extra officers to the railroad yards.

FEUDISTS FIGHT WITH SOLDIERS

ned, and represent the sovereign of the ate, they are now so frightened as to be ractically worthless for purposes of protecting human life and property.

At the present moment, as this dispatch is being sent, no one in Jackson dares to tell the truth. This is true of the newspaper correspondents and the representatives of the great press associations who came to Jackson total strangers a few days ago, and are now in terror of their lives.

There was an organized attack upon the Jackson jail last night. This attack was repulsed. Hundreds of shots were fired, but it is impossible to state whether anybody was killed.

The apparent object of the attack on the jail was to rescue the two prisoners, Jett and White, although some people say that the purpose was to lynch them. The theory entertained here is that, while the troops and the newspaper correspondents were terrorized, the Hargis faction led the attack on the jail under the pretense of desiring to lynch the prisoners, but in reality for the purpose of releasing them.

Tuesday afternoon Judge Redwine granted to Judge Hargis, the leader of the Hargis faction, permission to visit the prisoners in the jail. This is the first permission of the kind that has been granted.

Now that the attack on the jail has failed, the members of the Mareum faction and all law-abiding citizens in Jackson and Breathitt counties are for the first time beginning to entertain hope of justice and an expectation that life may yet be made possible for them in the county.

When the assailants were driven away from the jail under fire last night they received the most severe blow which has been struck at them during the past few years.

A state of demoralization is believed to have been begun amongst the Hargis leaders, but the condition this morning indicates that they are now organized for a

Jackson indicates that the troops have been frightened.

If new reinforcements were needed in Jackson they are needed now. The soldiers there ought to have the moral support of large numbers of reinforcements. Otherwise, in their present demoralized condition, it is not at all impossible that the state troops may actually be driven out of the town by the friends of Jett and White, who could then turn around and wreak vengeance upon every human being there for whose blood they are thirsting.

The sending of a handful of troops to Jackson, numbering altogether not 140, was a serious mistake. The situation demanded at least 800 men.

It is felt all through this part of the country that a grave crisis has now arrived, demanding instant action by Gov. Beckham, if not the intervention of the federal authorities.

It is hoped in Lexington that telegraphic orders are now under way for the dispatch of reinforcements to Jackson to protect law and order there and to uphold the name and authority of the state government.

There were 40 soldiers under charge of Maj. Allen, protecting the jail yesterday. Whether or not that number was there last night when the attack was made cannot now be learned. It is presumed, however, that there must have been between thirty and fifty soldiers engaged in the fight.

The opinion is expressed here that the Hargises will make another effort to save themselves by delivering Jett and White. The local newspaper in Jackson, all the local correspondents there and the telegraph and telephone operators have been under a state of terror for weeks. It was hoped that the correspondent of the Associated Press and the representatives of other newspapers, sent from a distance, would send out all the news. But it is known today that obstacles have been placed in the way of getting news. No doubt is entertained that the Hargis leaders would not have the slightest scruple about shooting any newspaper man on the spot if he sent out information reflecting upon them.

A warrant charging murder in the second degree was issued Thursday morning against Patrick Brennan, who killed John Ryan Tuesday morning in the latter's saloon at 2600 Howard street.

TWO SHOTS FIRED AT BOY.

Louis Knipping Ran When Stranger Accosted Him.

Young Knipping was on his way to a grocery and at Robert and Alaska avenues, a stranger called to him to stop. The boy ran and the stranger sent two bullets after him, neither of which took effect.

The boy continued his flight until he met a policeman, whom he told. In the meantime the stranger had disappeared.

Value of Motte Estate.

The inventory of the estate of the late Jesse W. Motte was filed in the Probate Court Thursday afternoon by George W. Lubke, the executor. Aside from 10 pieces of improved St. Louis real estate and one piece in Goshen, Ind., the inventory shows certificates of deposit amounting to $341,960.75 and other personal property bringing the total up to $349,312.45. No value was placed upon the real estate.

CONVICTED MAN CONFESSES ALL

Indictments of Politicians Likely to Follow Barabaglia's Statement.

SENTENCE IS SUSPENDED WHILE HE TELLS STORY

These Connected With the Case Are "Sweating Blood" Since Their Victim Has Shown Signs of Weakening.

When Judge Amidon Thursday morning called the case of John Barabaglia, convicted on several counts of aiding in securing fraudulent naturalization papers, District Attorney Dyer asked that sentence be deferred, as the government had use for the prisoner.

The use the government has for Barabaglia to obtain all the information he possesses in regard to the men who planned and carried out the wholesale naturalization frauds, and the methods they employed.

Barabaglia was closeted for several hours with Assistant United States DistrictAttorney Nortoni and told of many details that did not come out in his trial.

Thursday morning he was brought to the federal building at 10 o'clock for another interview with Nortoni. Before entering the latter's office, Barabaglia had an extended conference with his mother and his young wife in Marshal Morsey's office. They urged him to tell all rather than go to the penitentiary and leave them unprotected.

"Maybe he'll not have to go to the penitentiary at all," said a government official Thursday morning.

More than one Democratic politician is said to be "sweating blood" in view of Barabaglia's disposition to save himself at their expense.

Official Is Much Worried.

One prominent Democrat who holds a public office is described as being particularly worried. He is known to have been interested in Barabaglia. A member of the last House of Delegates is also said to be in great fear over what Barabaglia may have told.

There will be no indictments at present from what Barabaglia has told or may tell. The federal grandjury is not now in session. But it will be convened again June 4, and Mr. Nortoni says he will thereupon present everything Barabaglia has told him.

Indictments of three Democrats of some prominence are then expected. These Democratic politicians are not high party leaders, however. It is stated by the men in charge of the prosecution that the two most prominent men in the Democratic party in St. Louis have not been mentioned in connection with fraudulent naturalization developments.

Only one Democrat of any prominence has so far been involved in the federal dragnet. He is Thomas E. Barrett, marshal of the court of appeals. He is under indictment in connection with the naturalization frauds, and his trial is expected to be the next called.

Dolan Helped Indicted Man.

The testimony, which Mr. Nortoni began collecting last January, in a general way, shows that all the fraudulent naturalization papers were secured from the Court of Appeals. They also show that the beneficiaries, or rather the persons receiving the papers, were residents principally of a section of the Twenty-fourth ward, and of a downtown district.

Constable "Long John" Dolan, chairman of the Democratic central committee, lives in the Twenty-fourth ward. On his recommendation Barabaglia secured a job in the street department during the winter. When Barabaglia's indictment was returned, Street Commissioner Varreimann discharged him.

The developments resulted in the indictment and recent conviction of Nathan Levin, president of the Hebrew branch of the Jefferson Club. He was sentenced to five years. Levin talked to Mr. Nortani, after he was sentenced, but told nothing that the government did not already know.

A number of other indictments are still pending against residents of the two districts but they will be held back pending the Barrett trial.

Barrett's name was mentioned during the trial of Barabaglia.

John H. Murphy, clerk of the Court of Appeals, was a witness in that case. While on the stand, he was shown the naturalization papers of Ernest Nomi, Tony Vagri, Louis Pellegrini and others, and was asked if they were in his handwriting.

He said they were not.

Federal officials say that he then stated that the handwriting appeared to be that of Thomas E. Barrett, marshal of the Court of Appeals.

In his admissions to Mr. Nortoni Wednesday, Barabaglia said that these papers were brought to his home one night in January by a Democratic politician.

Politician Gave Him the Papers.

They were filled out in black ink, Barabaglia said, and the politician instructed him to give them to certain men in exchange for the papers they had made out with violet ink.

In explaining the violet ink story, Barabaglia told something about the entire scheme of operation in fraudulent registration in the Twenty-fourth ward without, however, telling all about its origin and who prompted it.

He said, in brief, that he got a lot of blank naturalization papers, stamped with the seal of the court and signed by John H. Murphy, clerk of the Court of Appeals. He got these from a man then holding city office, he said, who brought them to his house and told them they were from another Democratic politician well up in the party councils.

Barabaglia wrote in the names in the presence of his wife and the politician who brought the blanks, afterwards. The documents were delivered to the Italians whose names had been filled in, they registered at once and voted at the next election.

On the morning of the precinct registration, the Democratic politician came to him, Barabaglia says, and complained because he had written some of the names in violet ink, whereas black ink was always used by the court of appeals.

Barabaglia further said that when he attified to call at the district attorney's office, he consulted the Democratic politician, who told him to "keep his head shut."

Defense Planned at Fontana's.

Later, by arrangement with this politician, he called on him. Another politician was there, and they instructed Barabaglia, he says, to get the violet ink documents back. They said they would substitute others. The black ink papers were later brought to his house, he says, in accordance with this arrangement.

He delivered them, he says, and took up the old papers.

Later, Barabaglia said, plans were made for his defense in one of the saloons of John R. Fontana, member and former speaker of the House of Delegates. Another member of the last House of Delegates was present. At this meeting it was decided to employ Judge Krum, instead of Attorney Willis Clark, who had previously been retained by Barabaglia.

No Democratic politicians have conferred with Barabaglia since his conviction. Mr. Nortoni has permitted no one to converse with him while at the Federal building, except his wife and mother.

Thomas J. Buckley, former member of the House of Delegates from the Twenty-fourth ward, has called at the Federal building to make inquiries about Barabaglia.

Roping Contest Postponed.

The roping and riding contest, which was to have taken place Sunday at the Fair Grounds, under the direction of Col. Zach Mulhall, has been postponed till the following Sunday, because of the high water in the western rivers. Col. Mulhall received telegrams Thursday from his agents in Oklahoma, Texas and the Dakotas stating it would be impossible to get the wild cattle and horses to a railroad soon enough for shipment for a show Sunday.

HAS BEEN MISSING SINCE JANUARY

LEE PENNINGTON

Boy Who Left Oregon Jan. 21 Is Believed to Be in St. Louis.

Shields Pennington, employed at the Southern Hotel, has asked the Post-Dispatch to assist in the search for his brother, Lee Pennington, who has been missing since Jan. 21.

Lee Pennington is 19 years old and is an adventurous boy. He was last employed on the French-Glenn ranch, in Harner County, Oregon, and when he left there he started for the East, but did not say where he was going.

He has always been very careful to correspond with his mother, Mrs. L. Burns, at Fate, Tex., and she is very anxious as to Lee's whereabouts and his safety.

The brother and mother think it possible that Lee came toward St. Louis, and they would be very thankful for information concerning him.

PUBLIC FUNERAL FOR A GOOD DOG

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 21.—"Bow-Legged Jack," a bulldog who for many years did police duty in Mamaroneck, was buried there yesterday. His funeral, at the home of his owner, former Postmaster John C. Fairchild, was a grand tribute to him. Villagers and children placed wreaths and flowers on his grave. Children whose lives he had saved wept for him.

The dog was known to every person in the town. Nominally he belonged to Mr. Fairchild, but every one had a claim on him. He made his first appearance in Mamaroneck ten years ago as a tramp. Mr. Fairchild found him shivering on the town dock, lean from hunger and exposure, pitied him and took him home.

The dog showed his friendship a year later by saving the life of Mr. Fairchild's youngest son, Winton, five years old. The lad while bathing in the Sound waded out beyond his depth and was sinking. Jack plunged in and brought him ashore. He also rescued two other boys and a little girl.

His chief delight was to accompany the police on their night rounds. He would run ahead and scour the alleys and dark places, if he found any one there he would bark.

He discovered a strange man lurking in the darkness, in the rear of the Mamaroneck Bank several years ago. The man ran and the dog caught him by the trousers. The stranger, a burglar, belabored the dog with a jimmy, but he held on until Policeman Briggs arrived. The prisoner was held by the grandjury.

Cardui in the Home

Every home has a medicine chest or a few tried and trusted medicines which are kept on hand for emergencies. But no collection of home medicines is complete without Wine of Cardui.

Wine of Cardui is a home medicine which helps the girl through the trials of coming womanhood. This pure Wine safely brings the wife through the trials of motherhood, and finally smooths the way of the middle-aged woman through the critical period known as the change of life. There is no medicine so much needed in the home as Wine of Cardui, because it quickly relieves the pains of the young girl, and completely cures the long-standing troubles of the woman of any age. City men are down-town within easy call of doctor and drug store, but women, who spend most of their time at home, can appreciate having a bottle of Wine of Cardui within reach continually. A woman can never tell when headaches, bearing-down pains or painful irregularities will overtake her.

With a bottle of Wine of Cardui in her home, any woman can privately and successfully treat herself for

FEMALE WEAKNESS

Wine of Cardui is a popular medicine among millions of women for this very reason. It is popular because it cures without a doctor's examination or a surgeon's operation. It relieves women of painful and irregular menstruation, bearing-down pains, distressing inflammations, weakened nerves and the agonies of ovarian troubles. It brings children to barren homes and makes childbirth easy for suffering mothers.

Do you feel all worn out after a little exertion? Are you nervous and irritable? Are you sleepy in the day and restless at night? If you answer "yes" to any of these questions, Wine of Cardui taken in the privacy of your home would give you inestimable benefit.

Read what these home-loving women say about Wine of Cardui, and with their earnest words in mind go to your druggist to-day and secure a bottle of Wine of Cardui.

Marietta, Ga., March 12, 1902.
After giving Wine of Cardui a week's trial, I feel a great deal better than I have felt in two years. I can commend your Wine of Cardui to be the greatest medicine in the world. BESSIE WEST.

Ely, Ind., March 7, 1902.
Having used three bottles of Wine of Cardui and one package of Thedford's Black-Draught, I can truthfully say that it has done me more good than all the doctors' medicine did. I doctored with a physician almost six months, but did not get any better. I am seventeen years of age. I would advise any suffering girl to try Wine of Cardui and Thedford's Black-Draught. WINE of CARDUI

A NOTED KNIGHT TEMPLAR OWES HIS HEALTH TO PE-RU-NA

Colonel T. P. Moody, a prominent Knight Templar, is well known in every city in the United States west of Buffalo, N. Y., as a Jeweler's Auctioneer. In the city of Chicago as a prominent lodge man, being a member of the K. T.'s and also of the Masons. The cut shows Colonel Moody in the costume of the Oriental Consistory Masons, 32nd degree.

In a recent letter from 5000 Michigan avenue, Chicago, Ill., Mr. Moody says the following:

"For over twenty-five years I suffered from catarrh, and for over ten years I suffered from catarrh of the stomach terribly.

"I have taken all kinds of medicines and have been treated by all kinds of doctors, as thousands of my acquaintances are aware, in different parts of the United States, where I have traveled, but my relief was only temporary, until a little over a year ago I started to take Peruna, and at the present time I am better than I have been for twenty years.

"The soreness has left my stomach entirely and I am free from indigestion and dyspepsia and will say to all who are troubled with catarrh or stomach trouble of any kind, don't put it off and suffer, but begin to take Peruna right away, and keep it up until you are cured, as you surely will be if you persevere.

"My wife, as many in the southwest can say, was troubled with a bad cough and bronchial trouble, and doctors all over the country gave her up to die, as they could do nothing more for her. She began taking Peruna with the result that she is better now than she has been in years, and her cough has almost left her entirely. The soreness has left her lungs and she is as well as she ever was in her life, with thanks, as she says, to Peruna. Yours very truly, T. P. MOODY.

Catarrh in its various forms is rapidly becoming a general curse. An undoubted remedy has been discovered by Dr. Hartman. This remedy has been thoroughly tested during the past forty years. Prominent men have come to know of its virtues, and are making public utterances on the subject. To save the country we must save the people. To save the people we must protect them from disease. The disease that is at once the most prevalent and stubborn of cure is catarrh.

If one were to make a list of the different names that have been applied to catarrh in different locations and organs, the result would be astonishing. We have often published a partial list of these names, and the surprise caused by the first publication of it to all people, both professional and non-professional, was amusing. And yet we have never enumerated all of the diseases which are classed as catarrh. It must be confessed, however, to see even this partial list drawn up in battle array is rather appalling. If the reader desires to see this list, together with a short exposition of each one, send for our free catarrh book. Address The Peruna Medicine Co., Columbus, Ohio.

MORE ARRESTS TO FOLLOW MACHEN'S

Venality of Appalling Proportions Said to Involve Other Postal Officials.

MACHEN THOUGHT POLITICAL MACHINE WOULD SAVE HIM

But He and Two Men Accused of Paying Royalty to Him for Favors Are Arrested as Result of Deals.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—As a result of the dismissal and arrest of August W. Machen, superintendent of the free delivery service, consternation reigns among his friends in the postoffice department, and it is feared that this is only the beginning of most startling developments which will reveal the existance of venalty of appalling proportions and involve officials of importance and trust.

It is said close surveillance is now being kept on another official, who formerly occupied a place of trust, and it is intimated at the office of fourth assistant postmaster general that the end is not even in sight.

Postmaster-General Payne, who declared a few days ago that charges of irregularities in his department, as made by former Cashier Seymour W. Tulloch of the Washington postoffice, were chiefly "hot air," now admits that the revelations of 48 hours appall him.

Mr. Payne makes the following statement of the case against Machen and his alleged associates in the deals that caused the arrest:

Government's Case Against Machen.

"He is charged with receiving bribes amounting in all to about $22,000 in connection with a contract held by Groff Bros. of Washington, D. C., for a patent fastner used on street letter boxes, known as the Groff fastner. The postoffice department in the last ten years has used about $160,000 worth of these fasteners, and it is shown by ample evidence that for the past three years, at least, Mr. Machen has been receiving 40 per cent of the amounts paid to the Groffs. The transaction of business was conducted by Diller B. Groff, who controls the patent of a brother, Samuel M., a policeman."

The Goff brothers have also been arrested.

For sometime, a sum, aggregating many thousands of dollars, has been provided for miscellaneous expenses in each annual appropriation bill, and it was from this fund that the letter box fasteners were purchased.

The circumstances surrounding the purchase of all the other items paid for out of this fund are now being subjected to the closest scrutiny, and already several instances have been discovered which have aroused grave suspicions, it being intimated that the letter box fasteners are not the only item on which the department has been mulcted of generous commissions.

Machen used the favors at his disposal to build up a political machine which, he doubtless believed, would save him from the consequences of his acts, and which did prevent the exercise of proper supervision over the operations of his division.

The discovery of the fraud with which Machen is charged is largely due to Inspector Walter S. Meyer, who was appointed from Texas in 1891.

Postoffice Inspector Does Clever Work.

All the evidence to clinch the case was obtained by Meyer in a Philadelphia safety deposit vault within 24 hours before the arrest.

Postmaster-General Payne, in speaking of the case and the proofs that had been laid before him, said today that the ingenuity and skill with which the detective had worked out his conclusions were the most wonderful and brilliant that had ever come under his knowledge.

Mr. Payne said no one had made any admissions and that there had been no "peaching" by outsiders in this case.

"The result," said he, "comes from sheer ingenuity and skill, and the proof is documentary and conclusive. In such cases we always want documentary proof if we can get it, and in this case it is complete, and there is no getting away from it."

Machen has given bond for $20,000 to appear before a United States commission June 8 for a hearing.

Postmaster-General Payne says he will bring suit against Machen to recover the $22,000 the former free delivery superintendent had received.

Skin disease prescription

Eczema, Salt Rheum, Barbers' Itch, Erysipelas—all eruptions, scaly diseases and parasitic affections of the skin positively cleared away in a hurry. A clean, pleasant liquid (non-greasy) externally applied—sponged or sopped over the parts. Instantly stops all irritation. Soon clears out absolutely all affected conditions.

(Here is a case cleared away with two bottles.)

(Case of daughter of Mr. Mose Hartman, permanently cured of a bad skin disease after two bottles only of this D. D. D. prescription.)

We vouch for these facts.

They have been proven to us beyond the possibility of doubt.

WOLFF-WILSON DRUG CO., St. Louis.

[illegible] weeks ago the astonishing record of this prescription—proven to us by indisputable evidence—induced us to give it our unqualified recommendation to the public. Since then D. D. D. has cured so many who obtained it from us that its record with us has been fully equal to its previous history. We have not seen a single instance of disappointment. It seems to do the work every time. In nine cases out of ten, manifestations on the skin are skin diseases—not blood diseases. Many purchasers formerly miserable, thinking they had a bad blood disease, have found it was merely a skin affection and have cleared it all away with this prescription.

Among all the known reliable specific medical influences for different ailments we know of very few discoveries so certain in effect as this D. D. D. prescription in its quick conquest of skin diseases of all kinds.

A FEW CURES OF WELL-KNOWN PARTIES.

Chicago, April 7, 1903.

"About six months ago my daughter began getting sores all over her body and was gradually getting worse. Nothing seemed to do her any good, although we tried different medicines but without success. She would scratch continually and was a sight to look at. I was asked to try a bottle of your D. D. D. remedy, which I did, and to my surprise it worked wonders on her the second day, and before the bottle was empty she was almost cured. The second bottle completely cured her. I will highly recommend your remedy to any one suffering with skin disease; the fact is I cannot say enough for it."

Wishing you every success I am, yours very truly,
F. KLINKHAMER, 2001 Fillmore Street.

"I am glad to say that the bottle of medicine furnished by you in July last has been of great benefit to me. I am now free from the annoyance heretofore suffered from Eczema on my ankles. I have also cured a friend of mine who had two or three spots on his face." W. J. FOOTNER, St. Paul, Minn.
Vice President and General Manager of Great Northern Express Co.

"That wonderful discovery, the D. D. D. remedy, cured me of a bad case of Eczema of long standing, which the physicians could not cure. I cheerfully recommend it to all persons afflicted with any kind of Skin Disease."
C. R. WOODWARD.
(Ex-Mayor), Cairo, Ill.

"I have been troubled for years with Eczema of the skin and tried a great variety of remedies and cures with no apparent relief. Doctors were unable to benefit me in any way. A friend of mine gave me a bottle of your D. D. D. remedy to try. Before the contents of the first bottle were consumed I am glad to say your remedy had proved entirely satisfactory and had cured me.

I take great pleasure in recommending it to all everyone suffering from any disease of the skin."
Sincerely yours, JOHN D. BAGGOT.
(A well-known Chicago business man.)

"The D. D. D. remedy cured me of Lichen-Ruber in two weeks. I had bathed and treated at Hot Springs, Ark. for six weeks. The hot waters irritated me and made me worse. My body was covered with eruption from head to foot."
GEO. GEBERT, No. 200 43rd St., Chicago.

Chicago, April 6, 1903.

I got some kind of a skin disease in a barber shop and I tried a half bottle of your D. D. D. Remedy and I must say it cleared my skin fine. I asked the druggist for a salve and he says the D. D. D. would be the best thing for me. I thought the price was a little too much, but if I ever have any kind of a skin disease again I am willing to pay ten times as much. I think it the best remedy in the world for any kind of a skin disease. Yours truly, FRANK W. KOLLE.

CUPID OPENED COY LIPS ON AN AUTO

Beautiful Grace Greenway Frown Said Yes to Honore Palmer.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

BALTIMORE, May 23.—There was room for just four on Honore Palmer's automobile, but the boy god of love squeezed his chubby form in between two of the passengers on a trip from Philadelphia to Atlantic City, and by the time the destination was reached every arrow was gone from his quiver. Everybody in Chicago knows Alderman Honore Palmer, the son of Mrs. Potter Palmer. His engagement to Miss Grace Greenway Brown of this city has been announced, and with it the story of a romantic courtship is told, and it's all very pretty.

First of all, Mr. Palmer is handsome. He has been regarded as the most eligible bachelor in the western metropolis. Miss Brown is a Baltimore beauty. She is the youngest of eight children, and inherits her good looks from her mother. One of her brothers, H. Carroll Brown, married the daughter of Marcus Daly, the copper king. Walter Keith of Chicago married one of the Brown girls, and Stanley Field married another.

Miss Grace Brown and Mr. Palmer met in Chicago. A courtship was begun, but the young woman was coy and with feminine tact prevented the momentous question from being asked. A few days before she returned to her home here she accepted an invitation to take a trip in the automobile, "Gray Wolf," which the young Chicagoan had stabled in Philadelphia. A party, including Mr. and Mrs. Keith, the suitor and the girl with whom he was in love went on to the Quaker City. Palmer pressed his suit on the train with true Chicago persistence, but did not get his answer.

After arriving in the Quaker City arrangements were made for the 60-mile whirl to the seashore, and Mr. Palmer renewed the discussion which had been started in Chicago. Before the trip was completed the Baltimore beauty had capitulated and consented to have the engagement made public.

The bride-to-be is the daughter of George Brown, who died in May, 1902, in his beautiful country home, Brooklandwood, in the Green Spring valley. He was one of the largest land owners of the famous suburb of Baltimore and was rated as a millionaire several times over. The estate covers 1700 acres of beautiful land, splendidly stocked and managed, and was the scene of many of the most magnificent entertainments ever given in Maryland.

Miss Beam was a popular and trusted employe of the Simmons Hardware Co., and was lately promoted to assistant cashier. She was a member of Central Christian Church. The body will be sent today to her parents' home for burial.

CLEVELAND COUNSELS PEACE

Suggests That White Flag of Truce Be the Insignia of Labor Day Celebration.

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., May 23.—H. C. Collins, chairman of the local labor day celebration, who wrote to former President Grover Cleveland for some suggestion which might be made a feature of the day, has received the following reply:

Princeton, N. J., May 23.—"I have received your letter asking me to make some suggestion concerning a desirable display for your celebration of labor day. I am very much interested in fair and peaceful relations between employed and employer and I desire above all things that there should be an end to the unfortunate quarrels and misunderstands which have so often occurred between these elements of our social system.

"I hesitate to make any suggestion in the line which you present to me, but I should be very glad to know that your parade carried some banner indicative of the laboring man's desire to preserve peaceful relations with those who employ labor. I wish it might enter your minds, if consistent with your situation, to carry in your parade some insignia which means peace, something like a white flag of truce. Yours very truly,

"GROVER CLEVELAND."

NOTORIOUS BURGLAR KILLED

James Brady, 78 Years Old, Struck by Train, Died Clutching His Safe-Blowing Tools.

NEW YORK, May 23.—James Brady, noted bank burglar of 30 years ago, the pal of "Johnny" Hope, "Big Frank" McCoy and the greatest criminals of the day, was killed yesterday afternoon on the New York Central tracks near New Rochelle by a passing express.

Seventy-eight years old, enfeebled by long illness, and discharged but a few hours before from the West County poorhouse, in which he had passed the winter, Brady was moodily pacing the track, his back toward the approaching train.

His end was a fitting climax to a life which has few equals in desperate criminal exploits. Struck by the train—the New York and Boston flyer—dashing along at a mile a minute gait, the old robber was buried nearly a hundred feet. His head was literally severed from his body.

That the ruling passion of his criminal life was strong in the hour of death, was shown by the contents of a bag upon which the dead fingers were rigidly clinched when his body was picked up. It contained a complete set of burglar tools, including a dark lantern and a small electric torch. The lock picks and saws were the handiwork of Brady, made in secret last winter at the poorhouse where the unsuspecting officials looked upon the old man as repentant.

ATONEMENT FOR WRECK OF HOMES

Woman Shot by Companion Will Die; He Killed Himself.

EACH HAD SEPARATED FROM A LIFE PARTNER

Shooting at Grand and Chouteau Avenues Supposed to Have Followed Woman's Refusal to Depart With Man.

Mrs. Louis P. Neilson of 619 Chouteau avenue, who was shot by Paul E. Wolz of 2816 Michigan avenue at the corner of Grand and Chouteau avenues, as told in the late editions of Wednesday's Post-Dispatch, is still alive at the Marion Sims-Beaumont College Hospital, although the chance for her recovery is small. Wolz died at the City Hospital at 8:25 Wednesday night.

It is believed the shooting followed a refusal of Mrs. Neilson to forsake her home and depart with Wolz.

Mrs. Neilson was 27 years old. Wolz was 43. Thir infatuation had already wrecked their homes, as Neilson and Mrs. Wolz were fully aware of the state of affairs.

Neilson, who is employed as a lens grinder, recently returned from a trip East and on learning of his wife's conduct, left her, taking rooms at 814 South Third street, leaving Mrs. Neilson in their flat on Chouteau avenue.

Mrs. Wolz, who has several children, followed her husband to the Neilson flat Tuesday night, and entering unannounced, denounced him for wrecking their home and bringing dishonor on their children.

Wednesday there is said to have been another scene at the Wolz home and then Wolz left to meet Mrs. Neilson by appointment at the Grand View saloon, where they had met before.

After talking earnestly for some time and taking several drinks together, they went to the corner to take the car and seemed to be chatting pleasantly when the shots were fired.

Wolz's brothers, Fred and F. L. Wolz, with whom he was associated in business as a contractor, have declined to attempt an explanation of the tragedy, as has Neilson.

WRECK ON SCENIC RAILROAD

Car Ran Away and Several Were Injured at Forest Park Highlands.

Several persons were injured, one perhaps seriously, on a scenic railroad car which jumped the track on a steel incline at Forest Park Highlands Wednesday night.

Those whose injuries have been reported are: Mrs. W. Nicholas, 4626 Easton avenue, cut about head and body, internal injuries feared; W. Nicholas, 4626 Easton avenue, cuts on face and head and bruises on body; M. C. Nicholas, 4256 West Belle place, cuts and bruises on head and body; John S. Johnson, 3644 Page boulevard, bruised about the body.

Other passengers were on the car, and after they had been helped from the track they were sent to their homes and the employes of the scenic railroad have maintained close secrecy as to the particulars of the accident.

Cornelius Bernan was in charge of the car, and it is said that after the car had run along on the ties for a short distance it was so badly wrecked that other attendants had to be called to assist the passengers from the track.

MRS. MARY ANN POLLARD DEAD.

She Was Mother of Judge Pollard and an Invalid.

Mrs. Mary Ann Pollard, mother of Judge William Jefferson Pollard of the Dayton Street Police Court, died Thursday morning of a lingering illness at the family home, 3403 Lawton avenue.

Shortly before her death she received a letter from one of her former slaves, Mathew Solomon Parks, pastor of the African Methodist Church in Bonne Terre, Mo. He wrote from his deathbed to thank his former mistress for kind treatment of him and to express the wish that they might meet in heaven.

Mrs. Pollard was born in Howard County, Mo., in 1826. Her father was Robert Parks, a son of Capt. Parks, a revolutionary soldier. She was left an orphan when three years of age.

While quite young she became a member of the Christian Church and held the longest time membership in that church of any person in Missouri.

Her first husband was Benjamin Oliver of Richmond, Mo. No children by that marriage are living.

William S. Pollard, circuit clerk of Caldwell County, Mo., was her second husband.

Mr. Pollard was not a Confederate soldier, but because his sympathies were with the South he was imprisoned several times. During his imprisonment Mrs. Pollard with her three children crossed the lines many times, and she witnessed the battles of Pea Ridge and Springfield. At the latter, in order to escape fire line, she ran across an open country with her children.

Before the war she owned an estate of 5000 acres and 32 negroes. These were gone at the close of the war. Mr. Pollard died soon after and for 25 years she was an invalid as the result of exposure and accidents during the war.

She was cared for during that time by her son, Judge Pollard, who has been her constant companion.

The children that survive are: Mrs. Florence R. Kerley, wife of Dr. R. M. Kerley; Wade Hampton Pollard and Judge Pollard.

The arrangements for the funeral have ... been made.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething rests the child and comforts the mother. 25c.

ONLY 3 DAYS REMAIN

In Which to Take Advantage of the Most Liberal Offer Ever Made. All Persons Applying Before June 1st Will Be Treated for $5 Per Month, Medicine Included. This is Your Last Opportunity to Take Advantage of This Liberal Offer. Many Cases Are Cured in One Month's Time. Verily, Such Cures Were Never Performed Before.

Only three days remain in which to take advantage of the famous $5 offer of the Bi-Chemic Physicians. During the past few weeks their offices have been a veritable Mecca for those persons suffering from Catarrh, Deafness, Blindness, Lameness, Nervous Disorders, and all other Chronic Diseases that human flesh is heir to. The facilities of the Bi-Chemic Offices have been taxed to their utmost capacity. So great has been the multitude applying for treatment that the Bi-Chemic Physicians have been compelled to lengthen their office hours in order to accommodate the people. It will be absolutely impossible to extend this offer any longer.

All persons applying for treatment before June 1st will be examined by the X-Ray, and given treatment and medicines for a period of one month, for the nominal sum of $5. The Bi-Chemic Physicians wish to state that many cases are cured in one month's time. They also wish to emphasize the fact that this offer positively expires on the 31st day of this month, and will not be extended beyond that date under any circumstances. This is your last opportunity to be treated and cured at a nominal fee.

STOMACH TROUBLE.

Mrs. John Kutzman, 604 Summit av., East St. Louis, says: "I had suffered for years with catarrh of the nose, throat and stomach. My stomach became so weak that it was impossible for me to eat solid food. The pain which I experienced was intense. Oftentimes I would cough so hard that I would vomit all that I had eaten. I had lost 25 pounds in flesh and was a physical wreck. Under the Bi-Chemic Treatment my appetite is good, my head clear, my cough gone, and, in fact, I am a new person in every respect. I cannot speak too highly of the Bi-Chemic Physicians."

What a Prominent Doctor Says of the Bi-Chemic Treatment.

In all my experience along medical lines, I know of no treatment equal in effectiveness to the "Powell Bi-Chemic Treatment" as conducted by its efficient St. Louis management—Dr. Meredith Perkins. The Bi-Chemic Treatment, as the name implies, consists in part only, of the use of medicines proper; that the great re-juvenator, re-vivifier—electricity—plays the most important part in building up, and making new again, the entire system.

After three months' treatment, not always regularly followed up, because of my absence from the city, occasionally for ten days at a time, I can safely say that I have received more actual benefit from the use of the Bi-Chemic Treatment by far, than from any or all treatments I have ever used. I have felt better from the effects of the treatment than in five years.

DR. HOWARD SILVER, St. Louis, Mo.

CATARRH.

Mr. Frits Winkleman, Venice, Ill., says: "I have been a great sufferer from catarrh for many years. I have tried all forms of remedies and a great many physicians, and got no relief until I began treatment with the Bi-Chemic Physicians. I fail to find words to express the gratitude which I owe Dr. Powell for establishing his famous Bi-Chemic treatment in this city."

FREE X-RAY EXAMINATION.

The Bi-Chemic Physicians never accept a case unless they know to a certainty the cause of the trouble, and this can only be determined by a scientific X-Ray examination. Their X-Ray outfit is the most elaborate and complete in this country. By their Fluoroscopic attachment they are able to examine all parts of the body and find out to an absolute certainty the cause of the patient's affliction. Come and be examined; it is absolutely free. They will not charge you one cent. Come and find out what your trouble is and they will advise you in reference to a cure. It is all free. They ask no compensation.

HOME TREATMENT.

Dr. Powell's Bi-Chemic Home Treatment is the most perfect system ever devised. By this method the percentage of cures by mail is fully equal to the number of cures in the office. Write for home treatment symptom blank and book of testimonials, which will be sent free of charge.

The special $5 offer applies to the Home Treatment as well as to those who call at the office in person.

HER HEROISM WAS IN VAIN

Miss Mary Oechsle Clung to Mother's Skirts and Kept Her Afloat in Cistern, but She Died.

Clinging to the walls of a cistern with one hand, with the other Miss Mary Oechsle of Belleville, Ill., grasped the skirts of her mother, Mrs. Catherine Oechsle, and endeavored to keep her afloat until she could be rescued. Her efforts were successful, but when the woman was brought to the surface with the assistance of neighbors she was unconscious and expired in a few moments.

Wednesday night, Mrs. Oechsle, 60 years old, returned from a walk in the vicinity of her home, Oak street and the L. & N. tracks. Her daughters, Mary and Anna, were in the yard.

A moment later they heard cries for help and found that their mother had fallen into a cistern containing 13 feet of water. Her skirts buoyed her up for a moment. Mary directed her sister to run for aid and then the intrepid girl descended the cistern walls and grasped her mother's dress. By her efforts her mother was enabled to keep her head above water until Michael Dammerich and others rescued the two.

The exertion and shock was too much for the mother, who died a few moments after she was carried into the house. She is survived by seven childrn.

Physicians are calling attention to the fact that influenza or grip has come to stay. In the larger cities there has been a marked increase in diseases affecting the organs of respiration, which increase is attributed to the prevalence of influenza. Persons who are recovering from grip or influenza are in a weak condition and peculiarly liable to pulmonary disease.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures coughs, bronchitis, lung "trouble" and other diseases of the organs of respiration. It is the best tonic medicine for those whose strength and vitality have been exhausted by an attack of grip.

It purifies the blood, cleansing it of the poisonous accumulations which breed and feed disease. It gives increased activity to the blood-making glands, and so increases the supply of pure blood, rich with the red corpuscles of health.

"A word for your 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" writes Mrs. E. A. Bender, of Keene, Coshocton Co., Ohio. "We have been using it as a family medicine for more than four years. As a cough remedy and blood-purifier there is nothing better, and after having the grip Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is just the right medicine for a complete bracing up."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood, and lungs.

The sluggish liver is made active by the use of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets.

HANNIGAN SHUNS WITNESS STAND

Defense Abandons Plan Which Would Expose Him to Questioning.

The state rested in the case of former Delegate Jerry Hannigan, charged with bribery in connection with the Suburban Railway deal, at 11 o'clock Thursday morning, after hearing the testimony of Deputy Sheriff Patrick Garvey, who arrested Hannigan after a long search for the former House of Delegates combine member.

Otto Schumacher, a member of the combine that wanted $75,000 to pass the Suburban bill, was the last witness called by the state.

His cross-examination by Attorney Mulvihill consumed the greater part of the morning session.

Schumacher, on the witness stand, admitted that he considered no solemn oath as binding on his conscience. He said that while a member of the House of Delegates he sacrificed the interests of his constituents and the public for his own greed. The only merits of a bill that he ever considered, he said, were those entailing the amount of boodle he was to get out of its passage.

Mr. Mulvihill desired to show that the witness was not certain that Hannigan attended any of the meetings of the combine, or that the defendant ever accepted any bribes for his votes on legislation, but Schumacher declared that he was positive Hannigan attended all the meetings.

In the main, Schumacher's testimony was the same as that furnished by the other witnesses for the state, having to do with the methods of the combine in holding up corporations and individuals whenever there was a bill to be passed, and particularly in connection with the demand for $75,000 to pass the Suburban bill, which transaction is specified in the indictment against Hannigan.

Hannigan will not be placed on the stand to deny that he was a member of the combine. This was stated by Judge Willis Clark, one of the attorneys for the defence, Thursday morning.

The denfense has four witnesses, who will testify to Hannigan's character.

The jury will probably receive its instructions from Judge Ryan Thursday afternoon. As Saturday is a holiday, Friday will be the last day of the April term of court, and the Hannigan case must necessarily be disposed of before Saturday.

HUMAN OSTRICH CHECKED.

Police Sergeant Prevents Negro From Swallowing a Watch.

George Williams, a negro highway robber, would have succeeded in swallowing a gold watch and chain, had not the chain bar been caught crossways in his throat. Police Sergeant Lally saved Williams' digestive organs by making him disgorge the metal diet.

Williams wanted to conceal a watch and chain that he had stolen from Isaac Anthony, a negro, living at 315 Commercial alley, Wednesday night, and did the swallowing act while running away from the police.

CHILD FIGHTS WITH MAN.

Amanda Harris, Aged 7, Bites Assailant's Finger During Struggle.

While passing in the rear of 3128 Franklin avenue Wednesday afternoon, on her way to her home, 817 North Compton avenue, 7-year-old Amanda Harris was seized by a man who dragged her into a shed.

In the child's struggle for release her clothing was torn into shreds. She bit the man's finger severely, and her screams finally attracted attention, and the man escaped, leaving Amanda hysterical. She was carried to her home, and related her experiences to the police.

FORAKER FEARS HANNA'S FRIENDS

Not Satisfied They Will Obey Public Order to Indorse Roosevelt.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The decision of Senator Hanna not to oppose an indorsement of President Roosevelt is generally supposed to make the Ohio situation absolutely clear, but Senator Foraker left the city far from satisfied.

He still has the liveliest doubts as to the purpose of Senator Hanna's followers to permit the indorsement flag to stay out.

The advices received from Ohio are that county and district leaders are displeased at "taking orders" from the White House. They don't like the way Senator Hanna has quit. This displeasure is confined to leaders who are not federal officeholders.

Officeholders are glad the fight has come to an end, apparently, without a clash between the two senators. It is evident, then, to those who have only a superficial knowledge of the situation that the convention will be one in which each man is watching his neighbor out of the tail of his eye.

The defection of Gen. Grosvenor from the Hanna ranks is not regarded as anything serious by Ohioans here.

The general is interested in keeping a man of the name of Jones in office as pension agent at Columbus. He was appointed at the instigation of Hanna, but now Hanna wants Gen. H. B. Kennedy appointed, and Foraker does not object.

HANNA GOING TO SEA FOR HEALTH

CLEVELAND, O., May 28.—Senator Hanna intends to yield to the advice of his physicians to take a six weeks' cruise in the Mediterranean and thus gain strength for the fall campaign, which promises to be extremely ardous.

In explanation it was stated that while the senator was in no sense ill, his physicians held that he must cease work in the heat of the summer if he hoped for the necessary amount of strength to carry him through the fall.

STRIKE RIOTERS INVADE SCHOOL

Terrify Children by Attacking Four Nonunionists Taking Refuge There.

NEW YORK, May 28.—The Hudson County Gas Co. is laying a big main through Edgewater, N. J., and a week ago the Italian laborers, members of the excavators' union, struck.

The company has 50 men at work in front of the Edgewater School. The strikers began a "march" to drive off workers today. Every striker was armed with a club or a pistol.

The strikers opened fire, a free fight followed, and at least twenty men lay senseless after the attack.

Four of the workers ran into the schoolhouse. About twenty-five of the strikers, all armed with revolvers, clubs and knives, led a charge on the schoolhouse. The four fugitives burst into a classroom and tried to hide behind desks, in which the children were sitting.

The children began to cry and scream. The mob followed, brandishing their weapons.

Brushing the children aside, the strikers tried to get to the four men, and began to knock down chairs and desks and strike at the workers with clubs. Around the room, again and again, they chased the four.

Some of the children ran out and others huddled together in the middle of the room, dodging the frenzied rioters. Neither party paid heed to the screams of the children nor their cries of pain, as the mob charged over them.

At last, the four non-union men made a dash for the door and got out. The mob chased them out of the school and across the yard, firing several shots. The principal and teachers turned their attention to the pupils. Dr. Wyler was called to attend several of the injured children, who were able then to go home.

The men, who had been badly beaten by the gang, got up as soon as they regained consciousness, and fled, refusing to identify any of the strikers. The neighbors, who saw the battle, believe the strikers had blank cartridges, for none of the men appeared to be seriously wounded, although the strikers often placed the muzzles of their revovers close to their foes when they fired.

The sheriff heard of the battle too late to find any of the strikers.

TESTING ILLUMINATED SHELLS.

Government Also Tries Rapid-Fire Gun and Pistol.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Tests were made yesterday at the Sandy Hook proving ground of two pieces of ordnance which have been under consideration by United States army and naval boards for some time.

The weapons tested were the McLean automatic one-pounder and the Lugor automatic pistol. The McLean gun can fire 300 shots a minute, each pull of the trigger discharging 25 one-pound projectiles.

After dark a test was made of big guns which discharged what appeared to be huge balls of fire.

The army officers at Sandy Hook refused to furnish information regarding the night tests, but it is believed the experiments were being made with an illuminated shell intended for night use.

"ORIGINAL COHEN" IS DYING.

Established First Second-Hand Clothing Store in New York.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Harris Cohen, the genuine "Original Cohen," who was the first man to start a second-hand clothing store in Baxter street, is dying at the home of his daughter, in Park avenue.

Cohen, now 63 years old, is reputed to be wealthy, although he lost the thousands made in business on race horses.

The old man has eight children and 24 grandchildren. Most of the former are East Side pawnbrokers or clothing merchants.

CHILD POISONED FAMILY COFFEE

Did Not Like Visiting Woman Was Her Excuse for Deed.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

STROUDSBURG, Pa., May 28.—"I do not know why I put the poison in the coffee, except that I do not like Mrs. Shook."

Thus spoke Nellie Coffman, aged 13 years, who was arrested today to answer the charge of attempting to poison Mrs. Joseph Coffman and Mrs. Emma Shook of Cresco.

It is alleged that the girl put carbolic acid in the coffee.

The child was adopted by the Coffmans seven years ago.

NOW IS TIME TO DISSOLVE THE BRIDGE ARBITRARY

minal company," continued Mr. Crone. This should make the municipal assembly more careful than ever in dealing with the franchise problem.

"Enlarged terminal facilities would be a boon to St. Louis and a financial aid to the Terminal Association. These two considerations should be brought into harmony before the council takes further action on the terminal bills.

SOUTH ST. LOUIS SUFFERS ALSO

Oscar R. Fries, president of the South Broadway Merchants' Association, stated to the Post-Dispatch that while he thought no obstacles should be placed in the way of the Terminal Association to the carrying out of its plans for the extension of St. Louis' terminal facilities, yet the city should be compensated for the use of its streets, just as a private individual is compelled to either buy or lease property.

"The citizens of the South End," said Mr. Fries, "have suffered equally with those in North St. Louis from the baneful effects of the bridge arbitrary. That, it seems to me, is the main thing to be considered. I am in favor of any improvement that will help St. Louis and I am in favor of inviting capital to our city and offering terms which will produce an outlay of money."

TERMINAL CAN THROTTLE TRADE

The Terminal Railroad Association controls the traffic of St. Louis as the neck of an hourglass controls the sand that passes through it.

The Terminal has the power to throttle the commerce of St. Louis.

The West, Northwest and Southwest on the one side, the East, Northeast and Southeast on the other are the bulbs of the great glass of which the Terminal is the neck.

Cars of freight, like the grains of sand, came tumbling toward the great neck, but they halt crowded together just as they reach it. The neck has a limited capacity and they must wait their turn.

The neck, furthermore, has a variable capacity, whose variations are controlled by the Terminal officials. If they say the word it is entirely closed and the thousands of cars must wait.

Every Car at Terminal's Mercy.

Every car is absolutely at the mercy of the Terminal if it enters St. Louis. It has no choice of ways. It must go their way and pay their price. It has no more freedom than the sand in the hourglass.

There is no competition among railroads in handling freight in St. Louis. The fourteen great systems have combined here just as the Burlington, the Northern Pacific and the Great Northern combined in the north, forming the Northern Securities company.

These 14 railroads are the Vandalia, the Big Four, the Missouri Pacific, the St. Louis, Iron Mountain & Southern, the Wabash, the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern, the Louisville & Nashville, the Frisco, the Rock Island, the Southern, the Illinois Central, the Chicago & Alton, the Burlington and the Missouri, Kansas & Texas.

"These companies," says Julius Walsh, former president of the Terminal, "control over 50,000 miles of railway, or more than 25 per cent of the total mileage in the United States."

They are joint owners of the Terminal Association, each owning one-fourteenth of the stock. They never offer any of it for sale and it is not listed on any market.

Terminal Compared to Northern Securities Co.

The power behind the Northern Securities Co., which was recently declared an unlawful combination in restraint of trade by the courts, is small compared with that behind the Terminal Railroad Association.

Only three railroads combined in the Northern Securities Co. seeking to control traffic over half a dozen states. Fourteen railroads are combined in the Terminal Association, concentrating their power to control St. Louis.

J. Pierpont Morgan and James J. Hill were behind the Northern Securities. Behind the Terminal are not only Morgan and Hill, but also John D. Rockefeller, George Gould, the Vanderbilts, Edward H. Harriman, Moore brothers and the owners of the Pennsylvania.

None of these men personally hold Terminal Association stock. They are represented by the railroads which belong to it; Hill by the Burlington, Gould by the Missouri Pacific, Iron Mountain and Wabash; the Vanderbilts by the Big Four; Rockefeller by the Missouri, Kansas & Texas; the Moore brothers by the Rock Island; Harriman by the Chicago & Alton, and Morgan by virtually all of them.

Terminal Controls All River Crossings.

Combined, they control the only two bridges across the Mississippi at St. Louis. Those bridges are really the neck of their great hourglass which they can squeeze as they please. Added to this they have the Wiggins Ferry Co., 240 miles of terminal tracks, including two belt lines around St. Louis and three around East St. Louis, 200 acres of land in the heart of the city, 1500 acres of factory lands, the entire river front opposite St. Louis, and contracts with every railroad entering the city to use the Terminal tracks forever for all their business.

Thus fortified they use the bridge arbitrary, which has been described as a "blight upon St. Louis," as their chief tool.

The Terminal Association gets $5 for every car of freight it hauls across either of its bridges. The distance from the Terminal yards in East St. Louis to those in St. Louis is seven miles. The freight rate per car for seven miles as charged by the Terminal Association is $5. If the same rate were applied by railroads outside of St. Louis it would cost $700 to ship a carload of freight from St. Louis to New York.

Terminal Stops All Competition.

There is competition until the fourteen proprietary lines reach the St. Louis Terminals. Then it stops. The eastern shipper finds he cannot bill his freight through to St. Louis. He can bill it only to East St. Louis.

When the car gets there it is in the hands of the Terminal Association, representing fourteen railroads, and the shipper finds that the rates have suddenly jupmed.

"I didn't have to pay extra to get the car across the rivers it has already crossed or through the cities I have passed," he says, protesting.

The rate across the river is $5 and when he investigates he finds that the Terminal Association is the tollkeeper at the only gate which leads across. So he pays the $5.

He paid one railroad to bring the freight to East St. Louis and 14 railroads to take it across the river. Each of the 14 got one-fourteenth of his $5.

But that is not the end. If he wants the car set on a switch he must pay the fourteen railroads a switching charge ranging from $2 to $3, according to where he wants the car placed.

If he wants it turned over to one of the fourteen roads that own the Terminal he must also pay a switching fee of from $2 to $3.

If his car is to go to the World's Fair grounds it must be transferred four times and his freight bill from East St. Louis to the grounds is $14, paid to the fourteen railroads.

"The Blight on St. Louis."

In 1902 the Terminal Association, according to its own estimates, handled 925,000 freight cars across the river by the two bridges and the Wiggins Ferry. Of this number 507,000 were loaded. At $5 a car the total is $4,625,000.

It is this tribute which is described as "the blight on St. Louis." Because of it factories have moved to the East Side and others have been established there which but for the arbitrary would be in St. Louis.

The Terminal Association does not care, since it controls the East Side as well as the West.

In addition to the freight is the passenger business, which the Terminal handles at the rate of 25 cents a passenger. Passenger officials estimate that 8,000,000 persons crossed the river on their trains in 1902, paying the Terminal a total of $2,000,000. Every man who walks across the bridge must pay 5 cents and if he rides in a street car he pays 10 cents, part of which the Terminal gets.

Western traffic as well as Eastern falls into the clutches of the Terminal, escaping only the bridge arbitrary and paying all the switching charges. Not a car, freight or passenger, can pass through St. Louis without paying the Terminal toll.

How the Terminal controls the situation is evidenced by the miles of storage tracks which all lines into the city have outside the limits where cars are held until the Terminal is ready for them. The Terminal need not hurry, as no competitor can get them. Neither need it cut its rate.

When the Terminal has an accident traffic stops. This is another instance of its powerful grip. Two years ago, when cold weather blocked its bridges, every railroad had its storage tracks lined for miles with cars of coal, but there was a fuel famine in St. Louis. The Terminal Association said it could not move the cars and there the matter rested.

For the privileges which gives it this power it pays the city now $5000 a year. In the three ordinances now pending in the council it asks still further rights, offering only $100,000 and the promise to pay an old debt.

REDUCE EXORBITANT BRIDGE CHARGES MADE BY TERMINAL

The following amendment to the Terminal Loop Grab has been suggested to the Municipal Assembly by the North End Citizens' Association.

"The said association, as part of the consideration for the rights hereby granted, shall switch or move cars from any connecting railway within the present or future limits of the city of St. Louis for a sum not exceeding one dollar ($1.00) per car and from East St. Louis to any party or station on the line of their road or roads in St. Louis for a sum not exceeding three dollars ($3.00) per car, which shall include all bridge or ferry or switching charges and also include the delivery of all freight at their depots."

PRIEST CURES PHYSICAL ILLS.

Rev. Father Brockhagen of O'Fallon, Mo., Meets Many Patients.

An aged man in clerical garb, surrounded by a score of persons who were appealing to him for relief from bodily ills, attracted considerable attention on the midway at Union Station Thursday morning.

"I may cure you and I may not," he said to one old woman, who prayed for freedom from a long siege of rheumatism.

"But you did so much good for others I am sure you will help me," she replied.

The man was Rev. Father Henry Brockhagen, rector of the Catholic Church at O'Fallon, Mo. He came to St. Louis Thursday to see any whom he might benefit.

His mission is to cure those physically afflicted as well as to save souls.

He prescribes for all who are in need of medical treatment and exacts no charge.

"I make some medicine myself," he said to the Post-Dispatch, "but only to relieve a few complaints. I have made a study of medicine and I try to cure every one I can. By the grace of a divine Providence my work has been very successful. I come to St. Louis and my friends meet me."

SAID SHE HAD TAKEN ACID

Mrs. Clara Huisten Made Police Think So, but Failed to Convince Dispensary Physicians.

Mrs. Clara Huisten, aged 30 years, of 304 Marion street, made the police and her neighbors believe Thursday afternoon that she had taken carbolic acid.

The Dispensary physician found out otherwise and sent her home.

Mrs. Huisten had trouble with her husband two days ago and told her neighbors that she was going to kill herself. Wednesday she purchased some carbolic acid, but the neighbors took it from her.

Thursday afternoon she walked into the home of Mrs. Maggie Webber at 1533 South Third street, just around the corner from her home, and, showing her a cup, said: "Smell that," adding that she had drunk carbolic acid. Mrs. Huisten then locked herself in a room and the police took her out through a window.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., May 28.—Gov. Dockery today appointed the following named delegates to represent the State of Missouri at the convention of state bank supervisors, to be held at the Genesee Hotel, Buffalo, N. Y., July 7-8, 1903: Sam B. Cook, Jefferson City; W. P. Fulkerson, St. Joseph; Albert J. Enright, St. Joseph; W. L. McDonald, St. Louis; Emison Chancellor, St. Louis; H. A. Foreman, St. Louis; W. H. Reed, St. Joseph; C. T Bunce, Sheldon; Scott Alexander, Charleston; T B. Holland, Springfield; Marvin Dimmitt, Clarence; J. R. Dominick, Kansas City; D. M. Pinkerton, Kansas City; J. J. Thomas, Albany; John T. Heard, Sedalia.

Terminal's Attempted Grab Frustrated by Last Council

Terminal legislation was the subject of long deliberation when submitted to the municipal assembly at its last session.

In the former Council Capt. W. S. Hodges was chairman of the committee on railroads, which recommended the dissolution of the bridge arbitrary.

Capt. Hodges, Councilmen Boyce and Sheehan were appointed a subcommittee to look into the proposition of the Terminal Association, and, after much deliberation, submitted the following as necessary amendments:

1. The entire elimination of that feature of the bill which provides for the narrowing by 40 feet of Eighteenth street, between Market street and Clark avenue, so as to permit the Terminal Association to build an incline to the station. The committee considered this an exorbitant and unreasonable demand. If such a clause were adopted the average width of Eighteenth street would be 25 feet, and, on account of the immense traffic along that thoroughfare, pedestrians passing south on the bridge would be obliged to pass a network of intersecting street cars.

2. For all city streets used the Terminal Association should pay into the city treasury annually 5 per cent of the total value of the property.

For example: Assuming the Terminal Co. owns property on both sides of Twentieth street, between Clark avenue and Market street, and it is decided to close that thoroughfare in order to extend Union Station. This hypothetical case is closely parallel to the proposition contained in the station bill.

The value of the street, the committee suggested, could be determined by the abutting property, and when this was obtained the basis of assessment could be easily fixed. If it were found that the street was worth approximately $100,000, the terminal would pay to the city 5 per cent of that amount, or $5000, annually.

3. Abolition of the bridge arbitrary and the right of new railroads entering the city to join the Terminal Association on the same basis as those which now comprise its membership.

In discussing the report, Capt. Hodges stated to the Post-Dispatch that he had given the subject careful study and was sure that even the Terminal company would not take exception to the plan proposed.

"If I wanted a certain strip of property, I would either have to lease or buy it. The same proposition is involved when the Terminal Association or any other corporation, person or firm asks the city to turn over a public thoroughfare.

"The problem is simple, and I think the Post-Dispatch is right in demanding that it be solved in accordance with the best interests of the city.

"There has never been any definite line of policy heretofore pursued by the city in relation to these matters, and no standard of valuation determined. Five per cent should certainly be considered a just and equitable compensation to the city, and not at all burdensome on the corporation receiving the franchises."

HOTEL ON WAREHOUSE SITE

Eight-Story Structure Is to Be Built at Twelfth and Market Streets.

Plans are being drawn for a hotel to replace the old Peper warehouse building at Twelfth and Market streets. The site has 88 feet on Twelfth, by 200 feet on Market, and is owned by Christian Peper. About $200,000 will be expended.

The old building is to be entirely replaced, with the exception of the walls, which are 36 inches thick. According to E. V. P. Ritter of the Nicholls-Ritter agency, which represents the property, the new hostelry will be about eight stories, of steel frame construction and a permanent improvement.

JOHN JOHNSON'S BODY FOUND

Boy Was Drowned April 12 by Capsizing of Skiff at Foot of Rutger Street.

The body of John H. Johnson, one of two boys drowned in the Mississippi April 12 by the overturning of a skiff at the foot of Rutger street, was taken from the river at that point Thursday morning. It was found by Thomas Burck of 120 South Second street.

In company with four other lads young Johnson, a son of Mrs. Lea Johnson of 1210 South Second street, was rowing about in the river when the boat capsized, throwing them all into the water. Three of them escaped, but Johnson and one of his companions went down. The other body has not yet been recovered.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS.

Because It's for One Thing Only, and St. Louis is Learning This.

Nothing can be good for everything.
Doing one thing well brings success.
Doan's Kidney Pills do one thing only.
They're for sick kidneys.
They cure backache, every kidney ill.
Here is St. Louis evidence to prove it:

Fred Langebach, accountant, 4149 Shenandoah avenue, says: "I have asked more than one of my neighbors and acquaintances to go to the Wolff-Wilson Drug Co. for Doan's Kidney Pills. If I was not absolutely certain that the preparation acts just as represented I would not have done so. For eight or ten months I noticed that the secretions from the kidneys were too active, particularly observable at night. It struck me that Doan's Kidney Pills might help me, and I was not disappointed. A dose or two plainly told me that I had obtained the proper remedy. A continuation of the treatment radically disposed of the trouble."

MIDWEEK GOSSIP OF THE GARDENS

St. Louis Girl Will Head a Delmar Company

MISS JOSEPHINE NEWMAN.

After having made three fortunes, one with "Voyage en Suisse," another with "Fantasma" and a third with "Superba," George Hanlon, an oldish young man of Chesterfieldian manners, and his four sons, are winning life's battle over again in vaudeville. They are now at Forest Park Highlands, where they are presenting for the first time their new pantomimic skit, "Lord Lilywhite at the Waldorf-Astoria."

George Hanlon, who is the oldest of the six original Hanlons, started out as a lad of [illegible] on his English home in about 1847. The six brothers were gymnasts then, who could do some wonderful things on the flying trapeze. They had trotted all over the globe, giving exhibitions in circuses and theaters. Like all young fellows, striving for the best, they returned every once in a while to their gymnasium in the English home, to study up new tricks and feats. After a year's training, upon their return from their first globe-trotting experience, they visited the famous circuses of Renz and Wolfschlager, and found that these gymnasts and trapeze exhibitors were better than they. With the bulldog determination of the Englishman, the Hanlons spent a whole year, traveling from place to place, from country to country, to view the circuses of all nations which Europe teemed then.

"In nearly every circus," said Mr. Hanlon, "we encountered feats that were more difficult than ours. After a year's time we returned to our gymnasium, and for another twelve months we practiced continuously, until we felt assured that we would be at the head of our class.

"In 1880 we came to America under an engagement with Sheridan Palmer, who was then the owner of Niblo's Garden, on Broadway, next door to the Metropolitan Hotel. Mr. Palmer, who was the first to produce 'The Black Crook,' had brought over the Risleys, then the most famous gymnasts in the world, but we soon outstripped them in reputation, and took the championship away from them.

"After this New York engagement we visited St. Louis, and played in what is now the Olympic Theater, which was a circus, then owned by Metcalf, an old circus man. Spalding and Rogers acquired the property later, and made a legitimate house of it. It was at that time that the late Gen. William T. Sherman, who was then your townsman, presented us with a medal which I have now, for the championship of the United States.

"From America we went back to England, after one of our brothers had been injured by a fall in Pike's Opera House, in Cincinnati, and the other at Niblo's Garden. Both died practically from their injuries not long afterward, one in Los Angeles, Cal., and the other in Nice, France. Their deaths occurred within two months. Our mother was so distressed over the accidents that had laid low our two brothers, that for her sake we abandoned the gymnastic business and trained for pantomime."

Manager Jannopoulo received a telegram this morning announcing the departure from New York Wednesday of the three companies which will furnish the musical comedy and light opera at Delmar Garden this season. There are 180 persons in the party, which has a special train, and whose first stop will be at Cleveland, O. The train will arrive at the Union Station, St. Louis, this afternoon.

The party comprises the three companies of 60 each, which will play the St. Louis-Cleveland-Detroit circuit, and a ballet of 30, under the personal direction of Arnold Kiralfy—the best known ballet master of today. The ballet will accompany the company to St. Louis.

The company will reach Delmar tomorrow morning, when it will have a couple of rehearsals on its own stage. It has already been in rehearsal in New York for the past three weeks, and the result will be that its opening performance Sunday night will be quite as complete as any of the traveling companies that visit St. Louis during the regular season.

The opening attraction will be Weber and Field's "Pousse Cafe."

For the balance of the current week, with a special Memorial day program, Couturier's Band will give two concerts daily in the pavilion.

Suburban Park will have its opening on Saturday night, and, with the arrival of Innes' Band Wednesday, all is ready for the inaugural under the new management headed by Innes himself. Diavolo, the cycle loop-the-oop wizard, has his apparatus in place, ready to make his daily terrifying rides. The band enthusiastic and not a bit travel-weary owing to the stopover in Cincinnati, reached the Suburban ready for an immediate rehearsal, and much of the selected program for Saturday and Sunday was gone through with. The musicians spoke enthusiastically of their reception in Cincinnati, where, in the late season, they will play for the fall festival there.

The Dramatic Club of Cabanne Place will present a series of one-act sketches "Wayfarers," "Our New Butler," "Gentleman Jim" and "Because She Loved Him" at Arcade Hall, Cabanne, Friday evening, May 29, this being their closing function of the season. The following young folks will play the various characters in these little dramatic sketches: Misses Maxie Ritchie, Maryanne Robertson, Pressey, E. Edythe English, Carolyn Franklin, Rose Flack and B. Harrison and Messrs. R. Carhart, George Wagner, Eugene Randall, Leo M. Hill and Baby Virgie. Dancing will be indulged in after the entertainment.

Hashagen's Auditorium is presenting its usual vaudeville card this week, which is a varied one. Borgelt is illustrating songs, Macvro is showing a wonderful aerial contortion act, and the three Chesters are to be seen in the three distinct specialties.

Koerner's will open its season Sunday with "The Taming of the Shrew." Shakespeare's droll work rendered by Lawrence Hanley and his stock company has doubtless never had more favorable surroundings for al fresco theatricals, and Manager H. E. Rice has surrounded him with a good company, a perfect scenic equipment and elaborate accessories. The garden has been enlarged, embellished and improved so much so that Hanley's friends will find themselves "housed" in the coolest of quarters.

At Forest Park Highlands next week Col. Hopkins has engaged Fireman Joe Maxwell and company, the Ellmore Sisters, clever funmakers, with a small company of their own; Eva Mudge, the Military Maid; Morris Cronin and Wylie's Dogs, and Will H. Fox, in his original Paddywhistle satire.

Hashagen's Park is offering this week Ruff and Cusick, eccentric comedians; Madge Maitland, parody writer and singer; Fred Wilson, comedy juggler; Cordelia Roberts, in illustrated songs; Knetzger, wizard of the rolling hoops, and the Esher Sisters.

The performers appearing at West End Heights this week are the Warsaw Brothers, Wilson Trio, Robinson Sisters, Bandy and Wilson, the Kings, Travesty Trio and Elinor Butler.

Eclipse Park is doing a good business this week, the special attraction being the stock company in "Beneath the Red Cross." The play is proving a decided hit, quite beyond the expectations of either its author or producer. Last night the newsboys give it a great reception. A special matinee will be given Memorial day. Next week there will be a great labor play at the theatrical attraction.

The Black Crook Extravaganza Company with Minnie May Thompson as the chief feature of the olio, will be the attraction at the Standard next week.

Miss Amelia Bingham's production of "The Climbers" has scored the triumph predicted for it, and patrons of the Olympic Theater have been lavish in their praise and approval of the actress-manager, who had already won a warm place in their affections on her previous visit. On Sunday night she will present for the first time here Clyde Fitch's much-talked-of play, "The Frisky Mrs. Johnson."

This is the closing week of the season at Havlin's. The attraction, "Ten-Ten-Door," is a combination of the domestic and the military drama, and is one of the best worked up of the new plays of the season.

ONE MORE DAY'S TREMENDOUS SELLING

And the greatest bargain event chronicled in modern retailing will pass into history. This COLOSSAL SALE OF MILL ENDS has, most emphatically, been a brilliant success. It's been good for you—it's been good for us. Through some clever bits of merchandising we secured many lots of choice goods 'way below par and we've generously shared this good fortune with our patrons the past week. Now, as a fitting climax, we propose tomorrow to terminate this marvelous sale in a blaze of glory. We've grouped all remaining lots together and once more have applied the UNDER-PRICING BLADE with telling effect. THE RESULT—Friday at Famous will mark a new epoch in bargain-giving.

You can well appreciate that, with the heavy selling that's sure to prevail, many lots will be entirely sold out early in the day. Prompt attendance is therefore urged.

SCANDAL FEARED FROM SHOOTING

Fashionable Ardsley Clubmen Try Hard to Suppress Suspicious Gossip.

VICTIM IS SAID TO HAVE IDENTIFIED A MILLIONAIRE

Police in Town Are Engaged in Proving an Alibi for the Suspect Instead of Solving the Mystery.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Unless their efforts are successful, the fashionables of Ardsley-onthe-Hudson wil soon learn which one of them poor John Heffernan believed shot him, later causing his death. The coroner will sit today, and it now seems impossible for the evidence to be further suppressed.

However, complications in this singular case arise every hour, but a group of witnesses is prepared to swear that Heffernan, lying on the floor of the railroad station, within a few moments of his death, pointed at the clubman.

"There is the man," he murmured, faintly, "who shot me."

Statements as to the identity of the man thus identified vary. Edward Abercrombie, president of the village, declares that the man is young and unmarried, but does sot deny that he is a member of the Ardsley Club and a resident of Ardsley.

A millionaire, who is a son-in-law of a millionaire, is said to be the man the dying fellow identified. This man has been foolish esough to bluster much and threaten libel suits against any paper that may mention his name in connection with the affair.

Extraordinary efforts have been made by members of the fashionable Ardsley Club and also residents of the exclusive Hudson river residestial section to the north and south of Dobb's Ferry to hush up the rumors which have been current for the past two days.

Members of Club Fear a Scandal.

Members of the club seem to fear a tremendous scandal is in the air, one which will involve the fashionable establishment, and they are leaving no stone unturned in their efforts to disconnect the shooting with any member of the organization.

If it is shown that Heffernan was shot through some terrible mistake by a clubman who possibly thought him a fellow member of the institution and who mistook his companion for some woman of his acquaintance, of course the gossips would mention the Ardsley Casino in conection with the scandal.

An old cheap derby hat, bought in Springfield, Mo., has been found and efforts are being made to establish a theory that this hat was dropped by the murderer.

As evidence of how the "hushing up" is being done, the following talk with President Abercrombie of the town of Ardsley, who is chief of police, will explain:

How Police Are Hushing It Up.

"The fact is that Heffernan did give the doctor a name, and I know that name."

"Will you tell it?"

"No."

"Is he a wealthy man?" was asked.

"Yes; I understand he is a millionaire, but I do not know him."

"Will you put the man on the stand to clear himself?"

"I must decline to answer that. Anyway I have practically proven an alibi for him."

"Oh, then the officials are devoting their time to establishing an alibi for the suspect in this murder mystery?"

"No," replied President Abercrombie, "for I refuse to consider the man as a suspect."

When asked to give further details he declined.

He declared that the man had not been nearArdsley, but in another place on the fatal night. He would not say what he had been doing there.

AUTO ACCIDENT ANGERS CROWD

Physician Whose Vehicle Injured Woman Given Evidence of Bystanders' Displeasure.

Mrs. James R. Coffey of 5159 Kensington avenue was run over by an automobile being driven around the corner of Washington avenue and Broadway Wednesday afternoon, and for a time it seemed that witnesses of the accident would attempt to handle Dr. W. W. Gardiner, the driver of the machine, roughly.

Mrs. Coffey was accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Lucy A. Stotlemeyer, who had taken a step in advance on the crossing and barely escaped being struck by the machine.

Mrs. Coffey was severely bruised, and was sent home after being cared for by a physician.

WOMAN WILL BE "BACHELOR."

Miss Sarah E. Blair Among Graduates From Benton College of Law.

The fifth annual commencement of the Benton College of Law will take place Thursday evening at the Association Hall, Grand and Franklin avenues. The degree of bachelor of law will be conferred by Hon. John M. Wood upon 15 members of the senior class. Miss Sarah E. Blair is among this number. James E. Finch is the honor graduate of the class and Edw. W. Foristel ranked second.

The invocation will be by Rev. Dr. Cannon. The annual address will be delivered by George R. Taussig. His subject will be "The Lawyer's Duty to the Profession." This will be followed by the conferring of degrees. The class will be represented by their valedictorian, Wiley Jay Ward.

The Benton College was organized eight years ago and occupies lecture rooms in the Y. M. C. A. building, but plans are now on foot to give the school a permanent home.

After the commencement exercises the class will give a banquet to the faculty of the school at the West End Hotel. Mr. Foristel will act as toastmaster and all members of the faculty will make short addresses. These will be followed by the toast "Law," by James U. Minter; "Our Faculty," by Jos. Unger, and "The Lawyer as a Lawmaker," by Albert L. Schmidt. The banquet will be devoid of wines and liquors.

The members of the class are Sarah E. Blair, Rufus R. Clabaugh, Ed W. Foristel, J. Richard Garstang, James A. Finch, Wm. Goldman, Wm. Lowis, Calvin A. Masters, John U. Menteer, Albert L. Schmidt, Joseph E. Still, Walter G. Thielecke, James M. Turley, Joseph Ungar and W. Jay Ward.

BOTTOM FARMERS FEAR FLOOD

Rapid Rise of River Causes Precautions to Be Taken Around Venice.

Farmers in the Bottoms are again preparing for high water. The sudden rise of the river is now causing lakes and sloughs in the bottom to fill up rapidly. Many places in the bottom which were dry Wednesday were covered to a depth of two feet Thursday morning. Cahokia Creek is pouring water into Horse Shoe Lake and Chouteau Slough and both are expected to be bank full by night. The Tri-City Water Works at Gaberet Island are constructing a logboom to protect their intake tower from the floating drift and the Southern Railway has a force of men keeping their transfer incline free from floating debris. The board of levee commissioners of the Nameoki, Chouteau and Tri-City districts, under direction of President Fred Kohl, will make a personal inspection of the Madison County levees. The June rise of the river is badly feared by Bottom residents.

Honors for St. Louis Cadet.

Melton B. Strauss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin J. Strauss of 4160 McPherson avenue, who will complete the course at the Kemper Military School at Booneville, Mo., Saturday, has won first honors in declamation at that school. The contest was held Tuesday night.

UNHAPPY WITH HER MILLIONS

Beautiful Milliner Who Married Wealthy Mitchell Harrison Now Seeks Divorce for Incompatibility.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—A suit for divorce has been entered against Mitchell Harrison, sugar magnate, horseman and multi-millionaire.

His wife, Elizabeth Cooper Harrison, was the best milliner and the most beautiful woman in Albany ten years ago, when Harrison married her.

It is understood that the suit is based upon incompatibility of temper.

Mrs. Harrison has never made any attempt to enter Philadelphia society. Her superb beauty, lovable disposition and real personal worth have led many of the ultra-fashionables to seek her out, and thus she became the center of quite the most exclusive set in the city, if not the smartest.

Alumni Choose Officers.

Dr. John S. Simon declined re-election as president of St. Louis University Alumni Association and the following officers were elected Wednesday night: Jules Deslage, president; the Rev. Father John J. Tannrath, first vice-president; Eugene Slevin, second vice-president; Francis A. Hobein, third vice-president; James D. Dockery, treasurer; Redmond Brennan, recording secretary, and F. J. Stanley, corresponding secretary.

RETURN RACE UP RIVER

Contest for Freight Between Rival Packets Will Be Continued.

The steamer Stacker Lee reached Memphis at midnight Wednesday and is ready for the return trip as soon as the Lotus Sims appears at that port, the object being to keep the Stacker Lee as close in advance of the rival boat as possible.

The race is for business and the Lee Line officers say they will keep a boat in company with the Lotus Sims as long as she remains in the Memphis trade.

At the Lee Line offices in St. Louis it is said that there is not enough business on the river to make money for rival steamers and that it is a case of the survival of the fittest.

Officials of the company say they will protect their business if they have to put on an extra steamer to do it.

The Stacker Lee's officers reported at Memphis that they passed the Lotus Sims at 5:30 Tuesday, before reaching Cairo, and did not see her smoke after leaving her behind.

Jefferson Club Recognized.

Daniel J. Corcoran, at present sergeant-at-arms of the Jefferson Club, has been appointed superintendent of the street sweeping department by Street Commissioner Varrelmann. He was one of 69 appointments submitted to the mayor Wednesday, most of which were reappointments.

Assimilation should precede naturalization.

It seems to be agreed that Emerson was a fine spiritual cocktail.

The Pennsylvania press doesn't appear to care a copper for Pennypacker.

How many poor Trays were there in bad company when the street railway consolidation bill passed the legislature?

FREEDOM FOR ST. LOUIS COMMERCE.

Having checked the jamming through the Council of the terminal franchise bills for the consideration of amendments protecting the city's interests, the men who represent the city and are defending it from a monopoly grab should formulate the terms upon which the franchises sought by the Terminal Railroad Association shall be granted.

President Hornsby and Councilman Gibson have suggested important amendments, but would it not be well for them to consider further safeguards for the protection of all the city's interests.

Three main points must be provided for in the franchise ordinances.

1. Conditions preventing monopoly imposition upon St. Louis trade and the growth of St. Louis as a commercial center.

2. Fair compensation for actual property and franchises granted.

3. Protection of the city's interests on the river front.

President Walbridge of the Business Men's League makes the abolition of the bridge arbitrary and the admission of new railroads paramount conditions.

James W. Van Cleave makes paramount the abolition of the bridge arbitrary and the fixing of maximum rates for bridge and terminal charges. Mr. Van Cleave suggests a practical solution of the bridge arbitrary problem. His plan is for the railroads to include in their charges the terminal charges, thus abolishing the arbitrary terminal charges collected upon each shipment of freight and making St. Louis the terminal point of all St. Louis shipments.

Mr. Van Cleave wisely emphasizes the opportunity presented in these bills of adjusting these important questions; he appeals to the business men of St. Louis to insist upon their advantageous settlement as a condition to the granting of the privileges asked. The warning cannot be made too strong.

This is probably the last opportunity which will be offered the people of St. Louis to secure conditions which will prevent monopoly restrictions and oppressions in terminal charges and will remove all obstacles to the full development of St. Louis as an industrial and commercial center. It is the opportunity to place St. Louis on the railroad map on an equality with other cities.

The blight of terminal restrictions and arbitrary charges has been recognized and complained of for years by St. Louis business men. Will they let slip this great opportunity to remove it?

As for the other points of the ordinances to be settled, the municipal assembly should insist upon a fair return for actual values in property and franchises given to the Terminal Railroad Association. It should on no account sacrifice the river front and thus throw away the opportunity to develop the river traffic.

St. Louis wants ample terminal facilities, but she wants them upon terms which will conserve the city's interests. The terminal bills as introduced and originally amended were shaped almost wholly in the interest of the railroads and failed utterly to protect the public's interests. They were franchise grabs.

The World's Fair transportation facilities can be supplied without sacrificing the rights or the commerce of St. Louis. The World's Fair will pass away, but St. Louis will remain, and now or never the city's pecuniary and commercial interests must be safeguarded and her commerce assured of free and full expansion, unhampered by the throttling power of a gigantic and unrestrained terminal monopoly.

There may be a good deal more money in fair rates than in high rates for the World's Fair period. Greed is often a poor financier.

DOCTORS AND OTHERS.

[illegible]t Draper's censures of the doctors need not be re[illegible] them. Addressing medical graduates, he naturally [illegible]is truth and applied it to them alone, but they are [illegible]ffenders.

that no oculist learned his business except by spoiling a hat full of eyes. Of course, nobody should trifle with human life, and nobody should defy scientific truth. But what is scientific truth? Does any doctor know? Is any doctor sure that what he knows beyond a peradventure today will not be dismissed tomorrow as a superstition?

Science is a progress; the first step is to learn, the second to unlearn, the third to learn again. And so it goes, from guess to guess, from doubt to doubt, but never quite sure whether its conclusions be indeed the end of the matter.

The doctors are in the same boat with men of all other callings. If they spoil a few eyes, and kill a few of us now and then, we should not be too censorious. They mean well and are doing the best they can, which is about what everybody is doing.

With its cooling southern summer breeze and its sloping surfaces, St. Louis should be the most healthful city in the world. With our fresh air and perfect surface drainage, there is no excuse for sickness here. We ought to have clear water.

THE MASSACRE OF THE JEWS.

Israel Zangwill's cable to the Sunday Post-Dispatch goes to show that the first reports of the atrocious massacre of Jews at Kisheneff did not exaggerate the truth.

The black deed was the outcome of race hatred and fanaticism.

The story of a Christian child found murdered in the Jewish quarter, whose blood was used for ritualistic rites, has done the service of ignorant fanaticism many times. There seems no end to the credulity of the people of eastern Europe. Whenever hatred bubbles this story may be expected, and when it appears all the evil passions to break loose.

Czar Nicholas needs something more than unctuous benevolence. The troubles of Russia are due to profound ignorance. No degree of good will in the palace will remedy the disorders of the state unless it works through popular intelligence. Political reform must rest upon general education. If the Czar will turn his attention to this aspect of the subject, and stop dreaming, he will make a true start along the road of progress. Until he does this the Jews will suffer the acute agonies of persecution and his Russian subjects will continue to bear all the burdens of a despotism founded upon their own ignorance.

Meanwhile the public opinion of the world should be brought to bear upon the Russian bureaucracy to minimize as far as possible the horrors which disfigure and disgrace civilization itself.

Longfellow's house is to be reproduced as the Massachusetts building at the World's Fair. Are we not to have also the village smithy?

SPOONING IN THE PARKS.

Certain contributors to certain able New York newspapers are making certain statements that spooning in the parks there is a shame and a disgrace. One objector declares: "I was never more shocked in my life. I saw in one corner a couple with their arms around each other's waists and heard them calling each other endearing names, such as darling, love and sweetheart."

Another censor is not shocked at verbal expressions of private feeling in public places, but "it is physical spooning," he says, "such as holding hands, kissing, putting arms around necks or waists, that is so highly disgusting. Such action should be made a capital offense."

Dear me, but here is trouble! Spooning is already regarded as a capital offense by most persons, though not in the way this rabid objector means. Did not Adam and Eve spoon in the most celebrated park on record? Are we for one moment to imagine that they refrained from putting "their arms around each other's waists" and from "calling each other such endearing names as darling, love and sweetheart"?

Hardly! And mankind has been keeping up the custom ever since. Sorry to offend the feelings of anybody, but these horrified gentlemen have spoken too late.

At the switchmen's convention in Indianapolis this week it was asserted that railroads will not employ a man who is more than 35 years old, and a resolution was passed asking legislation against this rule. It might be well for young men to avoid a calling that leaves them without employment so early in life. This policy would possibly lead to an extension of the age limit.

Boss Cox thinks that if Mr. Roosevelt were to retire, Uncle Mark Hanna would certainly be nominated for President. No wonder there is so much talk about "the friend of labor" as a candidate next year.

A New York insurance man is unable to find the owner of a $1000 bill he picked up in a Reading Railroad Pullman car. Has he written to the Missouri legislators?

Ducks may abandon water and women may become silent, but Theodore Roosevelt will not retire from his candidacy for a presidential nomination.

Not only have triplets just been born in Columbia, Ky., but they have been given the good old Bible names of Mary, Martha and Solomon.

It is regretted that the World's Fair crowd is not on hand to see the Stacker Lee and the Lotus Sims tearing up and down the Mississippi.

It is now not only denied that Abraham Lincoln was a rail splitter, but it is asserted that the Grant log house was not built by Gen. Grant.

What Does Lucia Mean?

In a recent magazine Lucia Tenley—presumably Miss Lucia—in some palpitating lines entitled "Trust Me, Sweetheart," makes it plain that she has doubts of Willie's constancy and believes that he is on the point of giving her the throwdown. She makes all sorts of rash promises as to what she will do if he will only remain true and trustful. In fact, Lucia is more than ordinarily strong on trust, but she, being young, probably is not acquainted with the fact that this world is not conducted on a trust basis. It is either cash or security. If Willie is any sort of a man he can get the money for the girl by endorsing a promissory note, but she evidently thinks he already has the coin, for she sings:

Trust me, sweetheart—only trust me!
  Let me be your guiding star;
Let the angels hear the promise
  That I whisper in your ear;
Tho' the scoffing world may chide you,
  And with frowns your faults condemn
One fond heart will still enshrine you—
  Radiant king among all men.

Now, what sort of a "con" is this? Does Lucia for one moment believe that the angels are going to hear any conversation carried on between her and Willie concerning any matter which he may see fit to trust her for? Why does she insist upon having trust? Why doesn't she give her personal not for it? Could the angels be summoned as witnesses in case Willie should ever be called upon to sue to recover the amount in question? Is this only childish ignorance on Lucia's part, or is it a deep-laid scheme to do up Willie?

Then there is another side to this question which Lucia should remember: that is, that she may succeed in beguiling Willie with such stuff, but that she will be pinched and run in if she persists in attempting to rhyme "star" with "ear" and "men" with "condemn."

The Suburban's company "legislative agent" told a jury that he did not know it was bribery to offer money to a public official for special favors. What did he think it was—a Christmas gift, a donation party or a Sunday-school picnic?

FROG CATCHES A BIRD.

From the Henderson (Ky.) Gleaner.

Alongside and 20 feet below the L. & N. trestle on the Indiana side, are a number of ponds of water made by the water from the overflow of the river in the low places. In these ponds are a number of frogs of large size and just suited for the table of a city restaurant. They are often seen by passers by sitting on the edge of the water as if lying in wait for a morsel of something to eat coming their way. In the employ of the L. & N. company is Mr. Dan Hawes, whose duties require him to make daily trips over the track between the city and the switches some three miles up the road in the direction of Evansville, to inspect the track and see that it is in good condition.

Monday afternoon he was going along over the trestle, and when nearing one of the ponds his attention was attracted to the water by the noise and fluttering sound of some strange object. He immediately seated himself on the trestle some 20 feet above and waited developments. He saw several blackbirds walking near the water and a short distance away a bull frog intent on watching one of the birds. In the twinkling of an eye the frog sprang upon a full-grown bird and a terrible fight ensued. The frog would disappear under the water, taking the bird with him, but would come up instantly, desperately holding on to his game. Several times the two went down, until the bird, having its feathers thoroughly soaked, was unable to longer keep up the fight for its life. It was finally taken under and ten minutes later one-half of its carcass floated to the surface, and just after up came the frog and rested on the bosom of the water, having to all intents and purposes satisfied his appetite.

The entire proceeding was both novel and interesting to Mr. Hawes, and he wants some one to explain how the frog, having no teeth or claws on its feet, managed [illegible] and finally masticate a full-grow[illegible]tently much stronger than [illegible]

SUMMER GIRLS ARE GETTING READY TO DEPART

THE summer exodus has begun, and the summer girl, who in the last weeks has made St. Louis glorious with her new finery, is taking her departure to the seashore and mountain resorts, where she will row and golf and play tennis some of the time and flirt all of the time till she reappears browned and sunburned in mid-September.

While pretty girls are leaving the city, the supply of feminine loveliness on the boulevards and downtown is so great that only when one sees the departing does one realize what the city is losing.

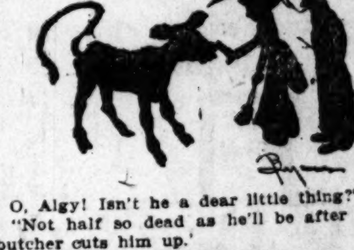

As seen in the railway station this week the summer girl is gray as to frock and multi-colored as to hat, though she will probably discard her present startling headgear of poppies or cherries for some cooler-looking hat when the really warm weather arrives.

Her frocks are of almost as many grays as there are summer girls, but the favorite tints are "smoke," or "pigeon" gray, the last named a glorified dust color. These gowns show the popularity of the long, tight-fitting coats with a skirt which came in this season. The summer girl who does not wear one of these in getting ready to flit, has a long traveling coat of pongee or pincheck taffeta, the latter of the prevailing gray.

The summer girl leaves the scene of her winter triumphs without regret. Her thoughts are all of the hearts she will break with her pink chiffon ball gown, the fortunes that will bow before her white linen frock, the obstinate bachelors who will succumb to the flaming witchery of her golfing garb.

THE HA-GOO GAME.

A game popular among the Trinkits, a tribe of Indians in Southern Alaska, is called Ha-Goo.

The children range themselves in two parallel lines. In the center of one line is a player who holds aloft a pole with a brightly colored piece of cloth floating from it. Then, from the opposite line, advances a little girl who holds out her hand for the decorated stick, while all her companions make faces, say funny things and "cut capers" to make her laugh.

If she smiles, ever so slightly, she is out of the game; but if she can keep a solemn face she takes the stick and goes back to her own line, while one of the opposing players moves across the open space and tries in turn to keep a straight face.

This goes on until there remains only one player who has not smiled, and this one wins the game for the side.

CAT STEPS.

You may drive the small boy to the barber's shop, but you can't always get his hair cut.

"Sure, it's for his own sake that I'm not after cutting it myself," said his mother. "The boys in school do be calling him 'Cat Steps,' and it may be that his head does be looking like that when I've worked the scissors on him. * * * There's a good boy, Denny; go to the pretty man with the dinky part in his hair and he'll fix you up fine, so he will."

But Dennis wasn't taking any. He clung to the door and howled.

"Well, come along with you," his mother said at last. "It's a mule you are. I'll fix you when I get home. Cat Steps? Sure, it's catnip you'll get this time! And bed[illegible]

DOG AND ADJECTIVE GAME.

This is a very simple game, but it may readily be made a very helpful one to those who desire—as who does not?—to increase their knowledge of words. It may be played without preparation, and will be played in that way, perhaps, as a rule, but to make it give the best service in a teaching way, arrange, if convenient, so that the players may know of it a day or so in advance. In that case they may have a chance to look over their textbooks, or the dictionary, to become familiar with as many adjectives as possible.

The players seat themselves in two rows, facing each other, and the first player on one side begins by saying: "Our dear little dog is active."

Then the player opposite to him must take up the phrase, and before the first player can count 10 must substitute some other adjective beginning with "a" for "active," thus, "our dear little dog is amiable." If he fails, he drops out of the game; but if he gives a correct answer, he then counts 10 while the second player on the other side is getting an answer ready.

Thus the phrase passes from one side to the other, until all the players on one side are out.

The game may be continued for some time if desired, by using adjectives beginning with the other letters of the alphabet.

POEMS YOU OUGHT TO KNOW

THE CHOIR INVISIBLE.

O may I join the choir invisible
Of those immortal dead who live again
In minds made better by their presence:
    live
In pulses stirred to generosity,
In deeds of daring rectitude, in scorn
Of miserable aims that end with self,
In thoughts sublime that pierce the night
    like stars,
And with their mild persistence urge man's search
To vaster issues.
    So to live is heaven:
To make undying music in the world,
Breathing as beauteous order that controls
With growing sway the growing life of man.
So we inherit that sweet purity
For which we struggled, failed and agonized
With widening retrospect that bred despair.
Rebellious flesh that would not be subdued,
A vicious parent shaming still its child,
Poor, anxious penitence is quick dissolved;
Its discords, quenched by meeting harmo-
    nies,
Die in the large and charitable air;
And all our rarer, better, truer self,
That sobbed religiously in yearning song,
That watched to ease the burden of the world,
Laboriously tracing what must be,
And what may yet be better—saw within
A worthier image for the sanctuary
And shaped it forth before the multitude,
Divinely human, raising worship so
To higher reverence more mixed with love—
That better self shall live till human Time
Shall fold its eyelids, and the human sky
Be gathered like a scroll within the tomb
Unread forever.
    This life to come,
Which martyred men have made more glorious
For us to strive to follow. May I reach
That purest heaven, be to other souls
The cup of strength in some great agony,
Enkindle generous ardor, feed pure love,
Beget the smiles that have no cruelty,
Be the sweet presence of a good diffused,
And in diffusion ever more intense.
So shall I join the choir invisible,
Whose music is the gladness of the world.

FUN AND INTERESTING READING MATTER FOR THE HOME CIRCLE

CAME BACK TOO SOON

Cholly Cityboy—"Ah, here's the dear old country lane; there's Farmer Crick's field! How he used to chase me out of it when I was a happy, careless lad!

"Yes, this is the same old field and there's the farmer's house, and I do believe the old dog is still alive."

Farmer Crick—"Say, you flash City feller, git! What d'ye mean by trespassin', hey? Sic 'em, Teaser! Sic 'em!"

Cholly Cityboy—"This is a little too much like old times and I'm going to postpone my next visit till I've heard of a few deaths around here."

FLOWERS ON DIVORCE DAY.

As usual, on "divorce day," a bunch of flowers appeared on the desk of the district judge at Fort Scott. For many years a mysterious bouquet has come to the judge on the day set apart for the hearing of divorces. All sorts of theories have been advanced to account for it. The commonly accepted one is that some woman released from an unhappy marriage sends the flowers in token of the proceedings by which she gained her liberty.

SHE RECEIVED THE INVITATION.

"And when you marry," she softly said, "I hope you'll remember to invite me to the ceremony."

He looked thoughtful.

"It will be awfully crowded, no doubt," he said, "but I think I can ring you in somehow."

And a moment or two later she declared the ring an astonishingly good fit.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Author of "The Cardinal's Snuff-Box"

Begins in "McClure's" for June and will run six months as a serial. It is a love-idyl, even more graceful, vivacious, and exquisitely finished than Mr. Harland's two other great successes.

THE OLD JOKES' HOME

By O. B. Joyful.

Back to gladness, back to Cork-O!
Back from sundry gleams of foam!
Back to unremitting work-o!
Back to the Old Jokes' Home!

Ah, what joy to be back in the cheerful precincts of this beloved institution, where every day it is my proud privilege to record the great good done by it for humor and humanity!

What a pleasure it is to sit here, surrounded by these venerable and venerated jokes, who are being restored to health and strength through the magic influence of Cork-O, the marvelous breakfast food, made from pure desiccated cork from Cork, Ireland!

False reports were spread during my absence concerning an illness in Baltimore, caused by a mixture of Cork-O and red lemonade.

Dear friends, believe me when I tell you that these allegations are untrue. In the first place, firstly, we guarantee that there is no deleterious substance whatsoever in Cork-O, the purest food now before the eating public, and in the second place, secondly, they have no red lemonade in Baltimore. How, therefore, can this calumny be believed?

Again, during this same period, one of our good-looking make-up men—I think it was Mr. Bill Smith—persisted during my absence in running my well-known signature at the top of this column, where it proudly stands today, while at the same time the red lemonade story was being syrup-titiously circulated, for the purpose of bringing opprobrium on the Old Jokes' Home through one of its members—one who at that time was busy in Baltimore corralling the old jokes brought along by that great body of modern jokesmiths now known as the American Press Humorists.

Mr. Smith is being closely questioned concerning these suspicious circumstances, and if it shall be proved that his conduct was in any way blamable, or if he shall confess his wrong-doing, Prof. Hosa Corker has grimly determined that both he and his family shall be deprived of Cork-O for a period of six months. What an awful fate to contemplate!

The following letter was received this morning by the great and good friend of the old jokes to whom it is addressed:

Prof. Hosa Corker, care Old Jokes' Home.

Dear Sir: I have been following with keen delight the noble efforts of yourself and corps to prevent cruelty to humor, especially old jokes. To say the least, your work is highly commendable and deserving of substantial reward. Our good citizens know that an offer of a house and lot or anything of value would be spurned—and, therefore, refrain from showing their appreciation in such a way. A movement is on foot, however, to present you and your staff with resolutions of esteem. These will be forwarded to you in due time.

Keep up the good work and let no infirm, disabled or palsied joke suffer circulation. Yours sincerely, IMA PEACH.

The following old-timers are among the number rounded up at Baltimore:

What relation is a loaf of bread to an automobile?

Its mother. Bread is a necessity, automobiles are invention, and necessity is the mother of invention.

A pretty girl is like a mirror because she is a good-looking lass.

Why is a watermelon filled with water?
It is planted in the spring.

If your mother-in-law fell down a well, what letter of the alphabet would express your feelings?

Why is a Hottentot lady like a prophet?
She has little on her own country.

Why is a toper's nose like the Brooklyn bridge?
Many schooners have passed beneath it.

Why is a kiss like a perfect sermon?
It requires an introduction, two heads and an application.

Why was the whale that swallowed Jonah like a milkman?
It got a great prophet out of water.

What animal is most generous?
The skunk. It gives every one passing a scent.

EDWARD EVERETT HALE AS THE PREEMINENT NEIGHBOR.

Dr. Hale has his home in the suburbs of Boston, but he lives in the United States, and he thinks, speaks and acts as if the nation was one great friendly neighborhood. He is pre-eminently the Neighbor of his time; the man to whom any other man's interest is dear, who cares not only for his own, but for the welfare of his fellows, and who has become a kind of universal helper. The center of his interests being outside himself, Dr. Hale has been a promoter of cheer, an inspirer of courage, a stimulator of kindness. He long ago found the secret of rational optimism, which is to think about others instead of thinking about yourself; and he has given the best possible formula for a happy life in his well-known phrase, "Look up and not down, look out and not in, and lend a hand." There are, apparently, no limits to his industry and fertility. He has not only lived a wonderfully helpful life, but he has organized helpfulness and given it the multiplied power of combined usefulness. A prolific writer, his success has been largely due to the fact that he has been as pre-eminently the Neighbor with his pen as with his voice.—Hamilton W. Mable in June Booklovers' Magazine.

TWO FEATURE RACES TODAY

Ordinary Card and Fast Track at Fair Grounds This Afternoon.

BY R. D. WALSH.

The Fair association management announces that the running in the Brooklyn handicap this afternoon will be called from the Fair Grounds stand, by quarters.

FAIR GROUNDS RACE TRACK, May 28.—An ordinary card of six races is scheduled for the Fair Grounds this afternoon. The track will be fast. The fourth and sixth races will be the principal events of the day. Only three candidates have accepted the weights assigned them in the handicap, but that will make it none the less interesting.

It is a singular fact that in almost every race of this kind that has been run on St. Louis tracks in the last few years the longest-priced horse has won.

Father Wentker will be the long shot today, and I do not see any possible chance for him to win from Malster and Frank Bell.

Two weeks ago today Malster and Frank Bell met in a six-furlong handicap, which the former won. Bell was a length back of the winner at the finish.. Malster carried 99 pounds and Bell 111 pounds. Today Frank Bell will carry 110 pounds to Malster's 108. This will make a difference of 10 pounds in Bell's favor from their race of May 14.

Frank Bell has had a good rest for the last two weeks, and should come out fresh and good today. On the other hand, Malster has had some very strenuous races at distances over a mile, and I am of opinion that these contests of his with Lady Strathmore and others did not do him any good.

All these circumstances considered, I am forced to the conclusion that Frank Bell will defeat Malster today, although the latter will probably be the favorite. It will be a horse race from start to finish, and the result in a large measure will be determined by the respective jockeys.

Sixth Race Can Be Bunched.

Next in interest to the handicap will come the sixth race, at a mile and seventy yards. There are only six horses entered, but three of them have some pretensions to class. Edgardo, Lunar and Virgie d'Or is the way to bunch them, and if the combination man lays a good "bunch" price, it will be the best and safest way to play this race.

Lunar ran a fair race with 111 pounds last Saturday, and five pounds off today should help her very much. Still, she is not by any means the same Lunar she was of old, and I will pick Virgie d'Or to beat her today. Virgie's first race this year was a brilliant one, and if she can do as well today, she should win.

If Edgardo were in his best form he could easily dispose of Lunar and Virgie at this distance, and even as it is he has a good chance. The mares will probably go out and race their heads off the first six or seven furlongs, and then Edgardo, who will take it easy in the beginning, will come along with one of his old-time flashes of speed and beat out both of them.

Now for a Pair of Yellow Dogs.

Pirateer and Pirate's Daughter, both Pirates of Penzance gets, are mudders, and need hardly be considered in this race.

The first race on today's program is one of the toughest propositions I ever came across. Ten "dogs" of the "yellowest" variety will contest for a $200 purse.

There is a sort of line on three of them in a six-furlong race at the Fair Grounds May 5. Martin Brady, Nathaniel Woodcock and Escanaba ran on that occasion, and Brady beat his opponents by several lengths. If their form is the same today as it was then they should finish in the same position, and Martin Brady should win, with Escanaba second.

Sweet Myrtle seems to be in a soft spot in the second race. Four of the candidates in this race have never run before, and it is barely possible that the winner may come from one of them. Check Morgan ran some fair races at Little Rock early in the spring, and has a good chance to run second, while Pinky B., on her good second to Old Stone, should not be worse than third.

Leenja will be the favorite in the third race because of her good performance of yesterday. She will take up some weight because of yesterday's victory, and this will not do her any good. I expect to see John Bull beat her. This fellow was only beaten a head by Cast Iron and Pathos two days ago.

I think he will outgame Leenja, and in any case, it is seldom that you find a mare of her caliber win two victories in succession. El Caney will probably get third money.

If Sardian were not such a slow beginner he would have a good chance to win the fifth. As it is, he must be considered, as the field is a rather indifferent one.

Cressida and Deer Hunter will probably be the contenders at the finish, and I like them in that order.

When a jockey does not ride his horse for second place when he has a palpable chance of getting it, he violates the ethics and the codes of racing.

When Master Louis Wilson saw yesterday that he could not win from Sir Christopher, he seemed to have suddenly forgotten that it might be important for him to secure second place. There is hardly a doubt that he could have secured it had he tried.

Now a large number of persons had played Orleans for the place, and it was rather hard on them to lose their money by the carelessness of a rider. Jockeys should be made to thoroughly understand that second and third positions are relatively as important as first place.

The Only Conclusion.

From the Baltimore Herald.

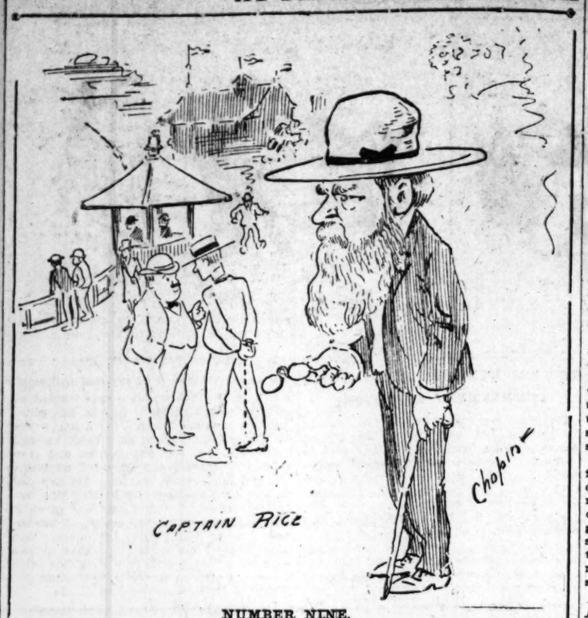

The following notice was posted the other day on the bulletin board of a famous London club:

"Will the nobleman who purloined Capt. ——'s umbrella kindly deliver it to the hall porter?"

A well-known peer, taking umbrage at this slight on his order, accosted Capt. —— and demanded an explanation.

"Well, you see," was the reply, "the rules state that this is a club for noblemen and gentlemen. I am certain no gentleman took my umbrella; hence there was no other conclusion to come to."

PLENTY OF WIND FOR THE RACERS

Reliance, Constitution and Columbia Prepare for Third Contest.

MATINICOCK Point, L. I., May 28.—It was dull and lowering when the crews of the cup yachts Reliance, Constitution and Columbia came out this morning to prepare for the fourth race over the Glen Cove course. Half a gale was blowing out of the south-southwest and there was every indication of racing conditions superior.

In fact, it looked early in the morning as if the yachts would sail over the same course as was sailed on Tuesday. It was hoped, however, that the breeze today would change to the westward, so that the yachts might have a longer trial in the wind as the narrow confines of the sound prevents much windward work in southerly or northerly breezes.

Before the crews had finished their breakfasts the clouds had seemingly shut in closer and it looked at that time as if a rainstorm was about to begin, but it held off and the men,. about 8 o'clock, began to get up the big mainsails. The skippers, scenting plenty of wind, ordered on deck the small clug topsails and the crews made preparations to set these sails as soon as the mainsails were up.

LIPTON'S FLEET IS ON THE SEA

GOUROCK, Scotland, May 28.—Sir Thomas Lipton's flotilla, consisting of Shamrock III, Shamrock I, the steam yact Erin and the ocean tug Cruiser, whose combined crews number 170 men, sailed from here for Sandy Hook at 1 o'clock this afternoon. Great crowds bade them farewell, flags were everywhere displayed and bands, whistles and sirens combined with the cheering of the spectators to give the cup challenger a great sendoff.

MEET IN TWENTY-ROUND BOUT AT WEST END CLUB TONIGHT

TOMMY FELTZ.

TOMMY SULLIVAN.

FELTZ-SULLIVAN FIGHT TONIGHT

Strength and Boxing Skill Are to Contest at West End Club.

Tommy Feltz, the only human bulldog, will try his aggressiveness on new game Thursday night at the West End Club, where he is scheduled to box Brooklyn Tommy Sullivan 20 rounds at 123 pounds.

Sullivan is different from most of the scrappers Feltz has been sent against. He is a featherweight to begin with, and has the height and reach of one. He is cool and deliberate, while the enemy does not hit him hard, and one of the best boxers that has appeared in St. Louis. He can hit a reasonably hard blow, but the fact that he has done nothing serious to most of his opponents, leads to the belief that he will hardly be able to damage the cast-iron upper works of Feltz.

Unless Feltz develops greater versatility than he has hitherto shown, his rushes are destined to end for the most part in sudden stops against uppercuts.

The principal factor in the case is whether Sullivan's strength will hold up with Feltz's. The latter is iron-made, and may wear down his opponent.

As a preliminary, Johnny Hogan of Chicago and Dan Haley of Omaha will box eight rounds at 162 pounds, the heaviest weight made in any bout at the West End Club.

Harry Sharpe will referee. The first bout will be put on at 8:30.

COLUMBIAN WILL HAVE NEW HOME

As a result of the good attendance at its recent entertainments the Columbian Athletic Club will move its home from the present quarters at De Kalb and Zepp streets to Concordia Hall, Thirteenth and Arsenal streets.

Wednesday night a big crowd turned out to see Jack Keefe and Billy McGivney of Brooklyn battle. Keefe won in the sixth round, knocking out his opponent, after having him beat from the third round. The first round was a hot one, both men fighting hard. McGivney did the leading, and in the second round had the East Sider going from a blow to the stomach. Keefe came back, however, and punished McGivney so that the latter could do little more than avoid punishment and fall into clinches for three rounds.

In the sixth, a right to the jaw ended matters.

Kid Huber and Billy Sanders fought eight rounds to a draw. Sanders had all the best of the bout, but by agreement, if both men were on their feet, the contest was to be declared a draw.

PROSPECT OF HEAVY GOING LESSENS BROOKLYN ENTRIES

Eighteen Horses Scheduled to Start, but Several Candidates Will Probably Be Withdrawn Because of the Mud.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Eighteen horses are scheduled to start in the famous Brooklyn Handicap, which will be run at Gravesend racecourse this afternoon about 4 o'clock.

The chances are that between now and that hour several of the candidates will be scratched.

The prospects are for a heavy track, and several of those engaged are poor performers in the mud.

Sambo, for example, is no good whatever in heavy going, and he has hardly the most remote chance of being in the money.

There are several crack mud horses engaged in the race, however, so that it is bound to be a grand contest, no matter what the condition of the track may be. Yardarm and Gunfire will probably divide favoritism.

Gunfire, William C. Whitney's candidate, winner of the Metropolitan Handicap a few weeks ago, is in grand condition for the contest. She is equally good on any kind of going, and the horse that beats her will probably get the prize. She will be ridden by Master "Tommy" Burns.

Yardarm will carry the colors of E. R. Thomas, and on account of his well-known propensity for soft going, will have a large following.

Connell will ride Yardarm, and he is not within 20 pounds of being the equal of Burns in the saddle.

Old Herbert will be piloted by George Odom, and he is the best mud horse in the race.

He is rather old, however, and has lost the vim and fire that characterized him several seasons ago.

Speed and stamina will determine the result. Gunfire has both in a high degree. She ran the Metropolitan mile in 1:38⅘, and last year covered a mile and a quarter in 2:05.

If the weather is anyway favorable a crowd of at least fifty thousand will see the event run.

Next to the Suburban Handicap, the Brooklyn is the most popular racing fixture on the Metropolitan circuit.

VICTORY TODAY WINS PENNANT

High School Has Defeated Everything in Interscholastic League.

The interscholastic baseball championship may be ended Thursday afternoon when High School and Manual Training School nines play at Pastime Park.

If High wins it will have defeated every team in the league and the pennant will go to the Grand avenue lads. If Manual defeats the red and black a series of games will have to be played and victories won by it before it can capture the championship.

High's record is without a black mark, if the 13-inning tie with Blees be excepted. That was wiped out by a big High School victory when the teams later came together.

Washington University's ball team will leave Friday morning for Rolla, Mo., where it plays a two-game series with the Missouri School of Mines aggregation.

CHARLES STAHL'S FATHER STRICKEN

Popular Boston Ball Player Learns of Parent's Death While Sick in St. Louis.

Charles Stahl, the popular center fielder of the Boston American League baseball team, departed Wednesday night for Fort Wayne, Ind., to attend the funeral of his father.

Stahl came to St. Louis with his team in poor health, and did not play in the St. Louis series. When the team departed, he remained at the Southern Hotel under the care of Dr. Starkloff, because it was feared he could not stand the strain of traveling.

About 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon, Clerk Jack Ryan handed him a telegram. It announced that his father had been stricken with apoplexy. Two hours later a second telegram announced his death.

Stahl decided to leave at once for Fort Wayne, despite his physical condition.

MERCURY
A POOR CRUTCH.

Experience is a dear teacher, as those who pin their faith to Mercury find out sooner or later. This powerful poison combined with Potash, is the treatment generally prescribed for Contagious Blood Poison, but failure and disappointment is the invariable result. These minerals drive in the sores and eruptions, and apparently the disease is gone and the patient believes the cure permanent, but soon learns better when the old symptoms return almost as soon as the treatment is left off. You must either keep the system saturated with mercury or endure the tortures of sore mouth, ulcerated throat and the mortification that one naturally feels when the body is covered with disgusting sores, rashes, copper-colored splotches and other aggravating symptoms of this vile disease.

Mercury and Potash are poor crutches, and their use eventually breaks down the constitution, ruins the digestion and cause the bones to decay.

SSS

S. S. S., a guaranteed purely vegetable remedy, is the only antidote for Contagious Blood Poison. It destroys every atom of the deadly virus, overcomes the bad effects of the mercury and cleanses the blood and system so thoroughly that never after are any signs of the disease seen. Nor is the taint ever transmitted to others.

We will send free our book on Contagious Blood Poison, which is interesting and contains full directions for treating yourself at home. Medical advice or any special information desired given without charge.

MARCONI-EDISON COMBINE FORMED

Inventors Will Make United Effort to Develop Wireless Telegraphy.

MARCONI'S COMPANY GETS OLD PATENTS AND SERVICES

New Partner in Concern Says Wireless System Will Not Force Cable Companies Out of Business Even When Perfected.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Thomas A. Edison has joined forces with inventor Marconi in wireless telegraphy.

This most significant alliance is announced formally. Mr. Edison has been taken into the wireless telegraph company as a member of its board of technical directors.

Marconi is the only other member of this board at present, but arrangements are being made to engage a third electrical expert—Prof. Michael I. Pupin of Columbia University inventor of the submarine telephone.

Dividing the managerial work, which heretofore has fallen wholly upon Marconi, the three technical directors, according to the program mapped out, will put wireless telegraphy on a commercial working basis in quick time.

"In a year, the new system will be in perfect working order," was Mr. Edison's prediction today to a Post-Dispatch correspondent at his Menlo Park home.

The arrangements upon which Edison and Marconi join forces were not made public in detail. They are known, however, in this general way:

Edison formally transfers to the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Co. several patents bearing upon the transmission of wireless message, and gives his services to the company as a technical director. The consideration is a large block of the company's stock.

"It takes time to put a great invention of this sort into working shape," said Mr. Edison. "Our new arrangement insures rapid progress, for, up to this time, Marconi has had to be everywhere and to direct everything. Now, I shall shoulder my share of the technical burden, and the chances are that Prof. Pupin also will be harnessed to the work."

When asked about the fate of the old cable companies, when the Marconi company takes the field in earnest against them, Edison said:

"Don't you believe a word of any prophecy that foreshadows ruin for the cable companies. There is business in plenty for them and for wireless telegraphy. We brought out electric light, didn't we? Well, you did not see a collapse of the gas companies did you?

"But such a collapse was predicted," continued Mr. Edison.

Edison admitted that he was at work on certain inventions to be applied to the Marconi system. Of their nature, he declined to talk.

FLOODS IN IOWA.

Hundreds of Families Driven From Homes at Des Moines.

DES MOINES, Io., May 28.—Hundreds of families were driven from their homes by floods which today closely approached the unprecedented record of last year and continued to rise with such rapidity as to render it apparent that last year's record would soon be surpassed. At the Sixth street bridge in North Des Moines the gauge is within six inches of last year's record of 21.4 feet. In the heart of the city the gauge indicated approximately 19 feet. The water today is rising at the rate of two inches an hour. Reports from above Des Moines indicate that last year's record has been surpassed and the water rising at a startling rate.

WHITE HOUSE IS FULL OF GIFTS

Enough Jewelry and Trinkets Received to Start a Novelty Store.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, May 28.—President Roosevelt will confront a domestic crisis on his arrival at the White House.

There is enough jewelry and odd Indian trinkets stacked in out-of-the-way places in the White House and stables to establish a novelty store. Pelts of wild animals have come from western admirers, and cowboys have contributed blankets and bridles. A sufficient number of wild animals has arrived or been promised to make a respectable sideshow. Of books there is no end.

The President's interesting family of boys with their playmates have already decided what they are going to do with most of the articles and have made life interesting for Col. Symons, who has succeeded up to this time in preserving the presidential plunder.

The President's western trip has been more prolific in small gifts than any junket ever undertaken by an executive. The aggregate in dollars and cents will not reach the total of the gifts to Gen. Grant made during his tour abroad after he had retired from office, but the President's circle of friends are unique and their contributions are characteristic.

The President is a voracious reader. Where and how he finds time to keep up his reading no one pretends to know. Every time he meets an author, either well known or obscure, he proves in a two-minute conversation that he is familiar with his literary output. This pleases the author, who is delighted to send him (the President) copies of everything he has written.

The collection of books began the week the President took the oath of office. There has not been a day since that time which has not added from five to one hundred books to the President's library. But since the President arrived in the West all records of receipts have been broken. Every author who has come within range of the President has insisted on an introduction, and has attempted to bind the friendship by forwarding a copy of everything he has ever written to the White House.

TRYING TO GET CHURCH BACK

People of Glen Carbon Permitted Only House of Worship to Be Sold to Coal Company.

Residents of Glen Carbon are planning to recover their church, the only one in the place, which slipped from their hands several months ago in a peculiar manner. The edifice was the property of the board of the Methodist Church South, but was used indiscriminately by various faiths. Through some misunderstanding with the board the latter arranged to sell the building and did so, the purchaser being the Madison Coal Co.

It was thought at the time that the company would rent the church for a dwelling for some miners' family, but such a general protest was made that it has been allowed to stand vacant. Meantime the only religious services are held in the schoolhouse.

Rev. P. O. Wilson of Lebanon has assumed the task of raising a fund with which to buy or build a church, and at the same time awaken an enthusiasm which will give it a fitting congregation at the start.

A series of revival services will be inaugurated Monday, June 15, and continue for several weeks. Among those who will assist Rev. Wilson are Rev. C. O. McCullen of Venice, Rev. Cameron Harmon of Granite City and Rev. C. D. McCollim of Troy.

Glen Carbon is a town of 1200 population.

PURGED OF CONTEMPT CHARGE.

Mrs. Annie L. Gerstel of East St. Louis Is in St. Louis Hospital.

Mrs. Annie L. Gerstel, East St. Louis dry goods merchant, charged with attempting to defraud her creditors of $34,000, has been purged of a contempt charge in the United States Court at Springfield, Ill., before Judge Humphrey.

Last February, when the judge found that she had disposed of a portion of her stock, which was then in the jurisdiction of the court, he placed her in contempt and ordered her to pay over to the receiver, L. A. Shaffer of East St. Louis, $16,000, or be sent to jail.

The strain of the proceedings overcame Mrs. Gerstel and she collapsed a month ago. She has been in a St. Louis hospital ever since and Marshal Morsey notified Judge Humphrey that she was too ill to appear at Springfield.

All that her representatives have been able to realize thus far, $6250, was paid to Receiver Shaffer Wednesday and the contempt charge was removed.

The grandjury will investigate the coming month the criminal charge against Mrs. Gerstel of having conspired to defraud her creditors.

Students Forbidden to Break Strikes.

CHICAGO, May 28.—President Harper of the University of Chicago is strongly opposed to the idea of students acting as "strike breakers." A railroad company was apprised of this when it appealed to the university for fifteen or twenty needy students to work as freight handlers, offering $60 a month for their services. Dr. Harper's attitude is that the university should not become compromised in a labor dispute which does not concern itself.

LIVELY SCHEDULE FOR TWO TEAMS

Browns and Detroit Must Play Four Times in Three Days.

DETROIT, Mich., May 28.—Strenuous times confront the Browns and Tigers. Within the next three days four games of baseball will be played by them in two cities, with not time enough to make even regular connections.

Today the teams play here, provided the weather hoodoo has shaken the Browns. Friday the clubs play again on the Tigers' grounds, and Saturday the teams play a double-header in St. Louis. In order to make connections, a special train has been chartered to bring the clubs to St. Louis from here. They will arrive at the Mound City with just time enough to eat breakfast and get to the ball field for the morning contest.

Today's battle will probably be between Pitchers Ed Siever, formerly of the Detroit team, and Mal Eason of the Tigers, as far as the pitchers department goes. Manager McAleer is somewhat chary of sending Siever against his former team mates, but Siever wants to pitch, and will probably be permitted to do so.

Wednesday's battle was cut off in the bud by a cloudburst, which occurred just at game time. A heavy wind accompanied the disturbance, and one of the heavy galvanized iron coverings over the trap doors in the grandstand was blown off. In falling, it missed the head of J. Sidney Mercer, Secretary Hedges' assistant, less than one foot.

"I guess," remarked Mr. Mercer, as he brushed the hot air off his person, "that things must becoming my way at last."

Capt. Padden will be in the game today, though his thumb is anything but well.

ETIQUETTE FORBIDS ANOTHER VICTORY

Hanlon's Men Will Think Cardinals Rude if They Win Again.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., May 28.—Mr. Brown, whose name is familiar to all, will figure in the box in today's game between Brooklyn and St. Louis. He will risk his reputation in an endeavor to further lift the Cardinals from the cellar of the pennant race.

According to the Brooklynites, it will be a serious matter for the Cardinals to win two games in succession. Yesterday they won a victory, and according to Edward Hanlon, who directs the fate of the Brooklyns, the Mound City club ought to be ruled off the diamond for life, owing to startling reversal of form.

A fortunate connection with the curves of Mr. Jones is the first and last innings netted the Cardinals their total of three runs, while, aside from a single tally in the first, McFarland was a puzzle to the Bridegrooms.

The Cardinals, too, played an errorless game in the field. It is not often that the Cardinals' star of batting comes into conjunction with its fielding luminary. According to the best signs the two are now flying apart again, and consequences may be looked for in today's battle.

Patrolman Rodenbaugh finished in front in the final shoot of the Eighth district police, Wednesday, with a total of 589. His total for the day was 103. Ninth district will practice Thursday.

High School's second team defeated the Smith Academy seconds, 8 to 1, at Pastime Park yesterday. The High School boys early found Pitcher Scott and began to pound his curves. Four errors helped High School's victory. Only one hit was made off Smith, High's twirler.

Patrick Walsh defeated Kid Hueston in a pool match, the final block of 100 points being completed Wednesday night at Carr's hall. Hueston won on the evening's play, but lost the match on a total of 300 to 186.

Illinois University will be minus two of her best athletes after commencement this year. Jake Stahl and Jimmy Cook, both noted in baseball, football and athletic circles here, will complete their four years' course this spring.

The formal transfer of 252 acres of ground, formerly the property of the Country Club, to Bonaventure Schreiber was made yesterday. The property cost "Barney" $35,000 and will materially increase the size of his present estate.

Schreiber announces his intention of making Woodlands farm the greatest breeding establishment in the world.

August Belmont announces that there will be two more meetings at the old Morris Park course, notwithstanding reports that this season's meet was the last. Belmont Park will be ready for the fall meeting of 1904.

Willie Fitzgerald is counting on Joe Gans hurting himself in getting down to weight for their battle Friday night at San Francisco. Fitzgerald is in fine shape, but Gans is still straining to get under 135 pounds. The betting favors the champion, however, at odds of 2 to 1 asked, and little money coming from the Gans side. The followers of the latter want 10 to 6.

POST-DISPATCH DAILY RECORD OF FINANCIAL AND MARKET DOINGS

ANOTHER DROP ON WALL STREET

The Morning Starts With Lower Prices and the Bears on Top.

THE WALDORF CROWD SELLING ROCK ISLAND

Foreign Exchange at Gold Exporting Point, but No Steamer Available — Bank Statement Comes Tomorrow.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 28.—The bears seemed in full control at the opening this morning. All the talk was pessimistic, London was lower and very weak and sent no early orders either way for this market.

Exchange rates are very stiff and were it not for the fact that there will be no fast steamer until next Tuesday there would undoubtedly be gold exports, as there is a margin of profit at the present rates.

Saturday being a national holiday, the weekly bank statement will be issued tomorrow. It is not expected to be favorable and with three holidays and a prospectively poor statement, no one seems willing to take on any considerable lines of long stock.

The Waldorf crowd continue to act and talk very bearish. This is particularly so on Rock Island and they followed up their talk by selling the stock heavily in the first half hour and succeeded in hammering the price down to 34¾ on the early trading, with but fractional recovery in the first half hour. Copper was also heavily traded in on a decline from the opening at 61 down to 60¼.

Mexican National is now reported as having been practically bought by the Mexican government. The selling has been coming from some of the larger banking interests who bought the stock quietly some time ago at low figures and who probably have had advance information on what was pending.

The talk of placing the Wabash debenture B bonds on an interest basis now takes the form of a plan to practically reorganize the funded debts of all the Gould lines prior to a general consolidation of the Gould roads, which has been the object of the Goulds for some time past.

Prospects for a good bank statement tomorrow were not made any better when it was published that the banks had been losers to the extent of $2,027,000 since Friday. The liquidation of many long accounts is hoped to have pulled down the loan account, so that this item will go a considerable way towards offsetting the loss of cash.

There was no brightening in the Rock Island cloud and the stock continued to pour out in large blocks and the price reached 34, with a later fractional reaction after noon. Copper also followed its early inclination to lower values and made 57⅞.

Missouri Pacific was really the hardest spot in the active list, its loss having been small as compared to many of the others. Sugar sold off on the decline to 121, but later recovered to 122.

The rule of the clearing house in reference to the various trust companies carrying a specified amount of cash reserve will go into effect June 1, and it is a matter of conjecture whether all the companies will abide by the rule or withdraw from the clearing house association. There are now 17 banks to which the rule is applicable and they hold upwards of $126,000,000 in deposits.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, May 28.—There was evidence of a renewal of liquidation in the opening dealings in stocks, causing fractional declines throughout the list. The weakness of the London market increased the selling pressure here. Amalgamated Copper dropped 1⅜, and realizing in National Railroad of Mexico preferred depressed that stock 1⅛. Losses of about a point were recorded by Rock Island and Leather preferred, and Union Pacific declined ¾.

Rock Island was poured out on a descending price scale until it reached 34¾, a loss of 1⅜. The liquidation was apparently checked, and it steadied around 35. Further losses were made in other active stocks before the market turned, but only in Louisville was the loss important, that stock declining 1½. Prices hardened only a trifle, except for a two-point rally in Leather preferred before the decline was renewed with violence.

On the second break St. Paul, Union Pacific, Atchison and Amalgamated sold lower than before and the general list came back to about the opening range. St. Joseph & Grand Island first preferred lost 5, Hocking Valley 2 and Union Pacific, Pacific Mail, General Electric and Pressed Steel preferred about a point. The market steadied and became dull after the first hour expired.

The character of the selling in evidence encouraged bear traders to attack prices with the purpose of dislodging vulnerable accounts. On the decline there were indications of heavy unloading by long-standing pools and prices broke rapidly. Amalgamated ran off 3½ under a continuous stream of offerings and its subsidiary stock, Anaconda, broke 7½. Rock Island was under severe pressure and was forced down 2¼. Canadian Pacific slumped 2⅝, Union Pacific ran off 1⅝. Northwestern 2 and the active list generally 1 to 1¼. There was a drop of 2 in Sloss-Sheffield, 2½ in United Railway investment preferred and 3 in United States Rubber preferred. Short covering rallied Amalgamated 1⅜, Canadian Pacific 1 and Anaconda 2. Missouri Pacific made a good recovery, but the rally generally was feverish and led to dull trading at once.

Rock Island bonds were weak and the bond market generally irregular at noon.

ST. LOUIS STOCKS FOLLOW NEW YORK

Prices Were Lower All Around at the Morning Session.

The market on local stocks was influenced this morning by the general decline that was most painfully apparent in New York. St. Louis has been long on many of the New York securities and was undoubtedly compelled to unload some local holdings to make the eastern losses.

Transit was off again, selling as low as $24, with that price bid at the close for more. Preferred was also selling lower and the bonds were a quarter off. Suburban was unchanged, with a demand by a house known to be in touch with its affairs, and bid for in a manner which indicates that "there's something doing."

Third National had enthusiastic supporters, as yesterday, but they were not willing to pay yesterday's prices and the sales were made at a sharp drop from the preceding quotations.

Missouri Trust was off a peg, with Mississippi Valley having support which failed to bring out any stock at advanced prices.

PREPARING FOR A HOLIDAY

Heavy Realizing by Wheat Bulls Cause Decline in That Grain.

CORN WAS VERY STRONG AND OATS VERY QUIET

Weather Unfavorable for Coarse Grains—Market News Has Little Influence in Wheat.

Grain.

A game of sell-out was played by the wheat bulls today, the nearing of the holiday, which would extend to three days in most markets, starting pretty general and really heavy realizing by longs who did not care to take any chances on a cessation from business for that length of time. The break in price that this selling brought about induced the bears to come out and sell and their old war cry of "you can't bull wheat in June," was once more heard. They had forgotten the 4-cent advance in June of last year, the 10-cent advance in June, 1901 and the 20-cent advance of June, 1900. Little attention was given the usual market influnces while this sale was going, and where bullish they had but slight and fleeting effect. It was a typical clearing sale that is so frequently notable where speculation is controlled by professionals. Corn was strong all day, as the weather and crop conditions were considered too bad to make short selling safe and no considerable realizing by longs was notable. Oats were quiet and closed weak. The cash markets in all grain were firm.

WHEAT—There were predictions from Chicago for more favorable weather and the Cincinnati Price Current again gravely stated that the winter wheat condition was maintained during week, though the government had admitted further deterioration in sections, and the weather readings from this end indicated more rain probable. The difference in the statements and actual conditions had traders guessing and though better price were paid at the opening, there was so much selling that the market soon gave way and eased off. Most of the selling was said to be by the principal long interest in July. Not much change was reportedt in foreign market, but that change was for the better, Liverpool having gained ½d and change was reported in foreign market against 46,800 bu one year ago.

July opened at 71⅝c, which asked at close of yesterday, sold at 71⅝@71¾c and these down to 71⅛@71¼c. September sold from 69¼c to 68¾@69c.

Following the early selling and decline on which Sept. sold at 68¾@68⅞c, the market hung irresolute for some time. There was nothing in the closing cables to afford the early sellers satisfaction, unless it was ⅛c decline in Berlin. Liverpool was quiet, but ¼d higher for the day, London up ¼d. Paris ¼c and Antwerp unchanged. A better buying feeling developed finally and July sold up to 71½c and Sept. to 69¼c. May sold at 74c.

Primary receipts were 270,000 bu, against 307,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 232,000 bu, against 321,000 bu last year. Clearances in flour and wheat were 422,000 bu.

Late in the day realizing broke out again, the approach of several days that will be closed to business, beginning Saturday with Decoration day, causing a good many longs to sell out. Encouraged by the weakness this developed, the bears came out from under cover and sold more freely. There was good buying, but it was not sufficient to hold values up and July declined to 71c, closing at 71⅛c sellers. Latest trading in September at 69c.

Cash market—Received 1297 sacks and 26 cars local and 13 cars through. Firm, but quiet. Somewhat larger offerings and the demand rather limited. Buying confined to very moderate purchases of the best offerings for local and outside mills. By sample delivered—No. 2 red sold at 76¼@76½c destination; No. 3 red at 74½@75c local and 75@75½c destination; No. 4 quotable at 70@73c; No. 2 hard at 73@75c; No. 3 hard sold at 72c and Turkey worth 74c.

CORN—Outside the Cincinnati Price Current, which stated that while planting delayed, the ground was bettered and the early planted sprouting well and of a good stand, the crop news was generally very unfavorable, particularly in the sections where rains have been heaviest. As the prospects were for more rain, the effect on speculation was bullish, but trading light and only a few sales made. Receipts were 84,700 bu, against 26,100 bu one year ago. Liverpool was inactive and unchanged to ⅛d lower.

July had 42⅞@43c (⅛c advance) bid, but later offered at 42⅞c. Sept. sold ⅛c higher at 43c.

A relapse to 42¾@42⅞c for July, and to 42⅞c for September, with sales at these rates, occurred later, but afterwards strengthened on the very bad advices that came from the country on the crop and the weather. July sold up to 43c.

Primary receipts were 435,000 bu, against 226,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 312,000 bu, against 192,000 bu last year. Clearances were 164,000 bu.

The late decline and weakness in wheat did not affect corn to any extent, as too much fear of the weather was felt for anyone to sell freely. July sold between 42⅞c and 43c, closing at 42⅞c, which bid for September. May was not mentioned all day, though all contracts are not settled.

Cash market—Received 388 sacks and 59 cars local, 34 cars through. Higher and sound grain quickly taken by shipping buyers at strong prices. By sample, delivered, local, No. 2 sold at 46½@47c; No. 3 at 44@45½c and choice, 46c; No. 4 at 40½c; No. 2 yellow at 46½@47c; No. 3 yellow at 46c; No. 2 white at 47@47½c; No. 3 white at 46@47c; No. 2 and No. 3 white round at 47½c. Destination, No. 2 at 47½c; No. 4 at 42½@43c; No. 2 white at 48c.

OATS—The tone of this market continued firm, though the Price Current was rather optimistic on crop conditions. Receipts were again light, 36,450 bu having come in, where 51,300 bu one year ago. Sept. sold ⅛c higher at 30½c.

Later September was offered down to 30¼@30⅜c, without a buyer, weakened by declines elsewhere. May sold at 35½c.

Primary receipts were 297,000 bu, against 370,000 bu one year ago, and shipments 268,000 bu, against 184,000 bu last year. Clearances 17,000 bu.

Late in the day the market weakened and at close Sept. was offered at 30¼c, though no offer to sell July below 33⅝@33¾c.

Cash market—Received 16 cars local and 11 cars through. Firm, as offerings still small and buyers have to meet sellers' figures, but demand limited to local requirements, as shippers out. By sample delivered—No. 2 quotable at 36c; No. 3 sold at 35c; No. 4 at 33¼@33½c; No. 3 white at 37¼@38c; No. 4 white at 35@36c and fancy 38c.

Trade Topics.

An analysis of the French crop situation by Beerbohm states that the official estimate of the crop, of 391,320,000 bu last year, was an overstatement by nearly 16,000,000 but, and it is already stated that the outturn this year will be fully ten per cent less than last year. Owing to the position of old supplies, it would not be unreasonable to suppose that France will import at least 16,000,000 bu in the next three months. The last time the duty was suspended was in 1898, when the price reached 30 francs, or about $1.37½, and it was entirely suspended that year from May 4 to July 31, when between 40,000,000 and 50,000,000 bu of wheat were imported.

From Thos. Cochrane of Lincoln, Neb., the Cochrane Grain Co. hears the following: We are having terrible weather in Nebraska—bad storms and lots of rain. About two-thirds of the corn planted, probably half of it is up in fair condition, but corn situation as a whole very unsatisfactory. Corn in cribs and farmers' hands, even in best of order, is too damp to shell and should have at least a week's dry, windy weather to make it fit to shell. Wheat is getting very rank, and if present weather keeps up very much longer will be ruined by lodging.

Of the 1,281,000 bu decrease last week in available supplies of wheat outside the official visible, as reported by Bradstreets, among the more important decreases are those of 500,000 bu in Manitoba, 275,000 at Keewatin, 235,000 at Fort Worth, 200,000 at Northwestern interior elevators, 105,000 at Chicago private elevators, 100,000 at Nashville, 71,000 at Port Huron and 54,000 at St. Joseph.

Liverpool wheat opened unchanged, but unfavorable crop reports from America and coverings by shorts caused prices to advance ¼d during the session. Undertone firm. Corn was influenced by steadiness in America yesterday. Opened ¼d higher, but dullness caused prices to ease off ¼d during morning. Paris weather cloudy and hot. Berlin fine.

Cincinnati Price Current says: Wheat condition maintained during week. Corn planting further detayed by rains, but ground bettered. Early planted sprouting well and good stand. Some needing cultivation. Oats below average, but improving. Hog packing for week, 475,000 head, against 415,000 last year.

There was some talk on the floor of how demoralizing and depressing the effect of a general labor strike, including the railroads, would have upon grain. If a tie-up of the railroads and consequent inability to move grain to the market would be bearish, the question arises what effect would it have upon the grain shorts who could not obtain the contract grain to deliver on their July sales?

Broomhall estimates Argentine shipments of wheat to Europe for the week at about 1,300,000 bu, compared with 2,376,000 last week and 336,000 last year. He estimates corn shipments will be about 1,200,000 bu. The weather continues unfavorable.

As there will be no session of the St. Louis Merchants' Exchange Saturday, tomorrow will be the last business day of the month, and all short contracts for May delivery if any outstanding must therefore be filled before the close of the exchange tomorrow. Property bought for May delivery must be received and paid for then.

Des Moines: The situation in Iowa is about past redemption so far as the corn crop is concerned in the northern half of Iowa. There is only from 2 to 20 per cent of corn planted. The whole country is under water. Oats drowned out. No corn to ship from Iowa in 1903. All of the highland in western and southern Iowa washed out.

Champaign, Ill., reports heavy rains last night. Fields are so wet now that very little farm work can be done for several days. Country deliveries of corn will cease until the roads get in better condition, and by that time farmers will feel that plowing will be of more importance than hauling either corn or oats. The recent change in weather conditions will prolong deliveries and the anticipated large June movement will not occur until July or possibly August.

Omaha, Neb., writes: Nebraska was treated to heavy rains again yesterday and last night and reports are that a good deal of corn has been washed and drowned out, which will necessitate replanting, while low lands are so badly flooded that quite a large area will not be in condition in season for cultivation. However, with good weather from this time forward, there is no reason why we should not harvest a good crop of corn. Excessive rains, however, are going to delay the anticipated movement of corn. Farmers will have very little time now for anything except cultivation and replanting. Vegetation is of rank growth and corn is getting weedy. I anticipate no free movement of corn now until the latter part of June, possibly not until after harvest.

Snow wires from Louisville, Ky., that wheat in southern Indiana along the Monon was generally heading, but straw short, thin and uneven. Evidence of rust showed in a large percentage of fields.

GRAIN MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH

CHICAGO, May 28.—Wheat opened firm on steady cables, with July unchanged to a shade higher at 73⅞@74@74c, but the volume of trading was light and the market lacked any features. Commission houses were fair buyers of July and September, while shorts were good buyers of May. Later in the day an easier tone developed on selling by St. Louis and July sold off to 73⅝c after touching 74¼c. Receipts at Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago were 181 cars, against 224 a year ago.

July corn opened a shade lower to a shade higher at 45¼@45⅜c and on railroad strike troubles advanced to 45½c. Local receipts were 246 cars, with 22 of contract grade.

WALKING DELEGATE HAS HIS TROUBLES

One of Them Says It Is "The Meanest Job on Earth"

EXPERIENCED UNION MEN TRY TO DODGE THE PLACE

Instead of Hunting for Strikes, His Business Is to Prevent Them and, at Same Time, Strictly Enforce Rules.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, May 28.—Two hundred men whose total income does not amount to $2000 a week, control labor industries of New York.

They can stop work on every building and in almost every shop and factory simply by snapping their fingers. The power of these men, mostly skilled mechanics, although some of them may be classed as laborers, has become in some cases greater than that of their employers.

These powerful agents are the walking delegats of the New York labor unions.

Their activities are greatest in the building industry, the most thoroughly and effectively organized of all the trades. The workers number 125,000 and they are controlled by 80 walking delegates.

A few days ago there was organized a central body of employers who have $500,000,000 invested in the building industry, to handle labor difficulties. Those who engineered the movement declared with emphasis that they are not opposed to trade unions, and that they have no intention of fighting them. The organization was effected, it was stated, to fight the walking delegates.

In view of the popular conception, outside of the labor organizations—that the delegate is a lordly, arrogant, unreasonable, power-loving person, who gained the place through political wire-pulling—it is interesting to know something of the actual work of the walking delegate, how he is regarded by the unions and how he regards himself.

What President Donovan Says.

The president of the United Board of Walking Delegates of the building trades is logically one of the foremost authorities. He is John J. Donovan, who represents the Plain and Ornamental Plasters' Union. He has been president of the board for three years. Donovan is a slender, wiry little man of about 40, with a red mustache and red hair.

"People condemn the walking delegate without understanding his duties," said Donovan with much vigor. "To begin with, I want to say that the walking delegate is a necessary evil, and that his is about the meanest job on the face of the earth.

"Instead of members of labor unions seeking the place, they are inclined to dodge it, at least after they have had a little experience. The delegates are in hot water most of the time. Outsiders seem to think that the chief business of the delegate is to find excuses for ordering strikes. As a matter of fact, his chief business is to avoid strikes and at the same time see that the rules of the organization are obeyed.

About nine-tenths of the troubles attributed to the walking delegate is due to the attempts of tricky contractors to violate agreements or to hoodwink us.

"We have nothing to do with fixing the hours of work or the rate of wages. That is determined by the union. Our mission is to see that the rules of the union are obeyed.

Walking Delegates Are Essential.

"If there was any way of getting around the walking delegates, I think that the unions would be glad to abolish them, but there is not. Some of the unions do not meet oftener than once in two weeks, and none of them meet oftener than once a week. Experienc has taught us that if a violation is going on the only safe way is to check it immediately it has been proved. In the intervals between the meetings of the union the walking delegate has supreme power. But it should be remembered that he is always responsible to the union for his acts.

"Each local union has from one to four delegates, the number being regulated by the size of the union and the teritory to be covered. Any member who has been in the organization for six months may be elected a walking delegate. Some organizations elect by a plurality vote, others by a majority vote. In nine cases out of ten the office seeks the man and not the man the office.

"The qualifications expected of a walking delegate are fixed by custom and not by rule. He must be a representative man. He must have proved that he is devoted, heart and soul, to the interests of the organization, that he has intelligence and skill in transacting its business. Delegates are elected for terms of six months in some organizations and for a year in others. As a general thing the average term of service of a walking delegate is about five years. There are men in the United Board who have been delegates for 15 years.

Pay of the Walking Delegate.

"The pay of the walking delegate is the regular scale of his trade, with an addition of 10 per cent for expenses. If he has extra expenses he must put in a regular bill, to be passed upon by the local organization.

"Samuel Park of the Housesmiths and Bridgemen's Union has a special allowance for cab hire. He goes from building to building in a hansom because the territory is so great that he could not cover it in any other way. But his pay is the regular wage of the iron workers, $4.50 a day. He deserves all he gets. That union could afford to send him around in a coach and four, for he has built up the organization to one of the strongest in the city. When he took hold of it the men were getting $1.50 and $1.75 a day and now they are getting $4.50."

SHORTER ROAD TO HIGH

Supt. Soldan Proposes to Lessen the Grammar Course One Year.

The grammar course of study in the St. Louis public schools is to be shortened one year, according to the present plans of Superintendent F. Louis Soldan. This is to be accomplished by cutting out some of the time devoted to arithmetic and geography, placing a part of the work now done in the eighth grade in the sixth and seventh grades and placing Latin and algebra in the high school course entirely.

Superintendent Soldan has come to the conclusion that the step is the best one for the schools, after a careful consideration of the now general demand for shortening the courses at all schools, colleges and high schools included.

MISS CREEK, HEROINE, DYING.

Decorated by French Government for Saving a Train.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

RICHMOND, Ind., May 28.—Miss Jennie Creek, widely known on account of a heroic deed which saved many lives at the time of the World's Fair at Chicago, and for which she was decorated by the French Legion of Honor, is near death at Converse.

Jennie Creek, a country maiden, flagged a passenger train on the Pennsylvania railroad near Hill Grove, in Blackford County, in 1893, thereby preventing a fast-flying train, with its many passengers, from plunging into an opening caused by a burning bridge.

The little girl was praised for her heroic deed. A party of Frenchmen aboard took up the matter and forwarded to her a medal from the Legion of Honor.

Long Time Between Kisses.

Ernie: We sat out on the old log last night. He said every time a star shot he would kiss me.

Ethel: And yet you did not seem pleased?

Ernie: Of course not. I think if a fellow loved a girl very much he wouldn't wait for stars to shoot.

"DE LACY'S CIN-KO-NA AND IRON"

RECOMMENDED BY THOUSANDS OF ST. LOUIS MEN AND WOMEN.

REMARKABLE STATEMENT OF

MISS ELIZABETH BELL,

A WELL-KNOWN ST. LOUIS STENOGRAPHER.

Read Miss Bell's Interesting Letter:

"My work is that of a public stenographer, and my office has for years been in the Burlington Building, 8th and Olive. For the past several months my work has been so heavy that I had to work most every evening until quite late, and I was almost completely worn out and a nervous wreck. A lady friend of mine—another stenographer, was taking De Lacy's Cin-Ko-Na, and it seemed to be doing her so much good I concluded to try it, and I was delighted to find that it braced me right up, quieted my nerves, gave me a fine appetite, made me sleep well and was so pleasant to take that it hardly seemed like taking medicine."

MISS BELL'S STATEMENT OF HER MOTHER:

"My mother had the grip several years ago, and it left her in awful shape. She was sick nearly all the time, and confined to her bed frequently. She was tired and worn out all the time: was never rested. De Lacy's Cin-Ko-Na did me so much good I persuaded her to take it, for she had taken a dozen or more advertised remedies, and has been treated by several St. Louis physicians, but nothing would do her any good until she began taking De Lacy's Cin-Ko-Na and Iron and before she finished taking the second bottle she was a different woman. The grippy pains and cough disappeared, her tired, worn out feeling entirely disappeared and today she seems like her dear old self again, thanks to De Lacy's Cin-Ko-Na."

MISS BELL'S STATEMENT OF MISS NICHOLAY:

"Mamma raised Miss Lilly Nicholay, and she is of course like one of our family. Her blood was badly out of order and she was troubled with pimples on her face very badly for eight years. We tried everything, blood medicines, lotions, face massages, etc., but all failed. Less than two bottles De Lacy's Cin-Ko-Na entirely cured her and today her face is free from pimples and perfectly smooth. De Lacy's Cin-Ko-Na is certainly a grand medicine and has done for our family more than tongue can tell and we can't find words strong enough to express our gratefulness."

Sincerely,

ELIZABETH BELL,

St. Louis, May 23d, 1903.
